School Aid Bill Killed

Antisegregation Added Before No Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Thursday nailed an antisegregation amendment to the school aid bill-then killed the entire measure.

A 224-194 vote against final passage came after a day of hectic confusion. It climaxed a bitter fight on the issue of whether states which practice racial segregation in their public schools should be barred from getting construction money from a proposed $1,600,000,000 fund.

Before killing the bill, the House adopted on a rollcall vote of 225-192 an amendment by Rep. Powell (D-NY) requiring states to "comply with decisions of the Supreme Court" to be eligible for federal aid.

It was a day of swiftly changing coalitions. Republicans and Northern Democrats teamed up to write the Powell amendment into the bill. But when Republicans and Southern Democrats joined forces to defeat the whole measure.

The rollcall on the Powell amendment found 143 Republicans and 77 Democrats for it, while 146 Democrats and 46 Republicans were opposed.

Against It

On the tally which defeated the bill, 119 Republicans and 105 Democrats voted against the measure, while 119 Democrats and 75 Republicans were for it.

Rep. Halleck (R-Ind) said after the final vote that "Democrats must take the responsibility for killing the bill" by refusing to go along with GOP-backed amendments to apportion the funds for school construction largely on the basis of need.

President Eisenhower, in urging a 1¼-billion-dollar aid program over a five-year period, had wanted the need factor stressed in relieving the school room shortage. The bill as defeated would have based aid largely on school population.

Had the Republican proposals been included, Halleck said, at least "50 fellows on our side would have gone down the line for it."

Northern Democrats, on the other hand, blamed what they called the "same old coalition" of Republicans and Southern Democrats for the bill's defeat.

Rep. Wier (D-Minn) said federal aid for schools lost because of "the solid Southern bloc and the solid Republican bloc, who have opposed any federal aid to education at all."

Mother Appeals, Breaks Down

Mrs. Morris Weinberger bursts into tears while making a radio appeal for the return of her baby son who was kidnaped Sunday from the patio of their Westbury, N.Y., home. She got out only a few short sentences before breaking down completely. (AP Wirephoto.)

POLICE TRAP FAILS

HUGE HUNT IS PRESSED

Official Concedes N.Y. Tot May Be Dead

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP)—A police trap baited with dummy ransom failed Thursday to lure Peter Weinberger's kidnaper into promised contact, and the baby's desolate parents pleaded for new word.

A police official conceded for the first time that the month-old infant might no longer be alive.

The child's father, Morris Weinberger, a well-to-do drug salesman, told police he had real money ready, not wads of paper, to pay the demanded $2,000 ransom.

He said he would go anywhere and do anything to get his tiny son back.

As a second dreary, rainswept night fell on prosperous Westbury, police activity at the Weinberger home diminished noticeably.

By 9 a.m. all police officers had left the scene and the big, brick ranch house had settled down to lonely sorrow.

Encouraged

The hope, a police official said, was that the kidnaper would be encouraged by the absence of police to make contact with the family.

He said the ransom note left when little Peter was snatched from his carriage Wednesday afternoon contained enough information to identify the kidnaper to the family.

Complying with the note's instructions, ransom packages were placed outside the Weinberger house this morning.

But the only real money in the envelopes was on the outside of wads of blank paper cut into the size of currency.

The child's mother, Mrs. Morris Weinberger, a tiny, brown-haired woman, left Peter alone in his carriage on the patio while she went into the house for a fresh diaper. She was inside only a few minutes. When she returned to the patio, the child was gone. A note left in the carriage read:

"I hate to do this to you, but I am in great trouble. Don't notify the police. I am not asking for a lot of money, only for what I need, and I am very serious about this."

The note directed that $2,000 in small bills be placed at an intersection near the suburban home. Because there are two similar intersections nearby, police said they put out two packages—one at each. The kidnaper's own deadline for picking up the ransom was 10 o'clock.

Neither Picked Up

"Every instruction about leaving the package was observed," Detective Chief Suyvesant Pinnell told newsmen after the deadline passed. The only apparent deviation was the substitute of worthless paper for actual currency.

Neither of the packages was picked up and eventually they were retrieved.

At one point during a discussion of the kidnaping, Pinnell qualified a remark to reporters by adding:

"If the child is living."

Peter's mother, Beatrice, tried to broadcast an appeal to the kidnaper over a Long Island radio station. But she got out only a few choked phrases before she broke down and cried to detectives:

"You read this. I can't."

Before the broadcast, the mother sobbed hysterically:

"I want my baby back. I want my baby back."

"In the broadcast, in which Peter's formula was outlined for the kidnaper, Mrs. Weinberger pledged:

Full Cooperation

"I am willing to cooperate in every way I can to get my baby back."

When she broke down, one of the detectives then read Mrs. Weinberger's complete statement for her. It was:

"I am the mother of Peter Weinberger, who was taken from me yesterday. Whoever you are, I now plead for the return of my baby, who needs the care of his mother.

"I assume you are desperately in need of money. I am willing to cooperate in every day I can to get my baby back.

"Most of all I am concerned for the well-being of my son who is in need of a special formula which I will now give you:

"17 ounces of sterile water, 1½ level teaspoons of sugar, one 13-ounce can of evaporated milk. Together this makes 30 ounces which is divided into six feedings around the clock in a five-ounce bottle.

"The baby must also have vitamin B-12, Dozex, five drops a day."

Dying Wife, Husband Charged With Trying To Slay Her, Cry With Joy

NEWCASTLE, England (AP) — Harold Mercer sat with tear-dimmed eyes at the bedside of his dying wife Sarah Thursday and talked of the future he knows she will never have.

Gray-haired Sarah, 49, patted his hand.

"It's nice to see you again, love," she murmured.

She did not know that her husband, also 49, had been in jail on a charge of attempted murder—her murder. She did not know that behind the hospital door stood two wardens from Durham Jail, watching him. She did not know that behind the happy reunion lay the combined efforts of two members of Parliament, a petition by her neighbors—and the humanity of Leonard Newcombe, governor of the jail.

Mercer came to the hospital from there. He is awaiting trial Monday on charges of trying to kill his wife with 13 sleeping pills to relieve her suffering. She has cancer.

He also is accused of attempted suicide. He has pleaded guilty to the suicide charge, but innocent of attempted murder.

Sarah knew nothing of this. She believed that her bricklayer husband finally collapsed from the strain of nursing her for four years and that he had been in a hospital too.

The visit lasted an hour and 40 minutes. Then Mercer came out. From a little side window, his daughter, Connie, and her husband watched.

"He was crying with happiness," Connie said.

As Mercer drove back to his lonely prison cell, Sarah smiled through her pain. She said:

"I'm so glad he's better."

FRISCO'S MAYOR ASTONISHED—

Eyebrows Lift At Nude Figures On GOP Booklet

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — Mayor George Christopher's eyebrows soared high Thursday when for the first time he saw the official program for next month's Republican National Convention in San Francisco.

A good Republican himself, his honor expressed astonishment when his eyes fell upon the cover illustration — a picture of Rodin's classic statue of "The Three Shadows" from his monumental work of sculpture, "The Gate of Hell."

Most Democratic

What disturbed the mayor was the fact that the three men represented in the sculptural masterpiece are wearing the most democratic of apparel — nothing at all.

Not a single stitch adorns the three male figures, captioned on the cover as "Unity," with the subtitle "Peace, Progress, Prosperity."

The chief executive of the city that will host the GOP convention remarked sadly:

"I don't think it's a very healthful picture for the Republican party. I wouldn't have chosen it myself."

Meet Called

After scanning the nude figures on the program cover, Mayor Christopher decided to try to do something about it. He called for a meeting with Edward V. Mills, chairman of the local citizens' committee for the convention.

Mayor Christopher and Edmund O'Brien, executive director of the GOP Arrangements Committee, according to the Associated Press, said late Thursday night "under no circumstances" will the picture of a statue of three dejected-looking nude men be used on the cover of the program.

Bruce J. Ellis, head of a San Francisco firm where the programs are being printed, said the front illustration had been okayed by the Republican National Committee itself.

He said the printing job costs about $30,000 and he could not estimate the loss any change in the format might entail.

To further complicate the matter, art experts pointed out that Rodin originally created the statue for a Paris museum as part of a group titled, "Abandon hope, all ye who enter here."

They added that Rodin himself had identified the trio as "three shades at the gates of Hell."

Adlai At Creston, Ia., On 'Listening Tour' Of Farms

CRESTON (AP) — Adlai Stevenson, Democratic presidential aspirant, said Thursday during what he calls a "listening tour" of drought hit areas in Iowa that maybe farmers should give the Democrats another chance.

Stevenson, who removed his necktie and opened his shirt collar while talking with farmers in southern Iowa, made the remark after being told the farmers would like to see a law passed permitting them to buy government-held corn at less than the support price.

He said he would look into the possibility of such legislation for farmers in areas where feed is scarce because of natural causes, and then commented:

"The Democrats did a pretty good job for several years. Maybe you should give them a chance again."

To Nebraska

Stevenson came to Creston to spend Thursday night after discussing farm problems throughout the day in several southern Iowa counties. He plans to dip into northern Missouri Friday for talks with farmers there before swinging through eastern Nebraska to spend Friday night in Omaha.

The former Illinois governor said he decided on the tour because talks with farmers in his home state had convinced him they were "badly worried" about the future and he wanted to know how Iowans felt on the matter.

One of the principal stops on the tour Thursday was at the 640-acre farm of Amos Siglin, about 13 miles east of Corydon, where he was greeted by a gathering of about 50 farmers. Corydon is the center of an area hard hit by drought before rains of up to 5 inches earlier this week.

Grade A milk producers told the Democratic presidential aspirant that they had to haul water for their livestock before this week's rains, but that the moisture had changed all that.

"I must have come to Iowa a few days late because it must have been hell here last week," Stevenson commented.

'Must Have Been Hell'

Siglin — a Republican and a member of Gov. Leo Hoegh's drought-advisory committee which earlier this week advised the governor to seek designation of 36 Iowa counties as a drought disaster area — told Stevenson he personally hadn't been much affected by the shortage of livestock feed that has plagued southern Iowa during the drought.

But he told the former Illinois governor that some of his neighbors had been forced to sell 20 to 25 per cent of their basic herds because of the shortage of pasture and water.

Democratic Delegation Meet Planned

Nebraska delegates to the Democratic National Convention will gather in an ear-bending session for organization Saturday and will follow with an informal meeting with Adlai Stevenson, presidential aspirant.

The 12 delegates and 11 alternates meet at the Paxton Hotel Saturday morning at 10 and later adjourn to the home of Bernard Boyle, Omaha attorney and Democratic National Committeeman from Nebraska.

Officially, Stevenson is scheduled to appear as a guest of Boyle's, but a Democratic spokesman said delegates will take advantage of the situation to line up their thinking in the national convention.

Stevenson is the second presidential candidate to make his appearance in the state. Sen. Estes Kefauver appeared for a luncheon and short address before state Democrats in Omaha earlier in the year.

The organization of the delegates will be for purposes of selecting a chairman, vice chairman, and secretary of the delegates. One alternate, Paul Busch, was dropped from the list following a change in jobs.

Stevenson To Be In Nebraska Today

Lincoln Star Special

CRESTON, Ia.—A member of Adlai Stevenson's partly told The Star Thursday night the group hoped to spend Friday afternoon and perhaps Friday night in southeast Nebraska.

Art Thompson said a definite itinerary would be set early Friday morning, and that if transportation could be found to get Stevenson's son, Adlai Jr. to Omaha by 5 p.m to catch a plane the rest of the party would be able to visit more Nebraska points.

He said the group planned to cross into Nebraska at Auburn in early afternoon, and would visit Tecumseh, Beatrice and Lincoln if the time permitted, going on to Omaha Saturday where Stevenson will meet delegates to the national convention and other Democratic party officials.

Storms, Showers Continue

Strike South, West; More Predicted Friday

Thunderstorm activity appeared over the southern portion of the state Thursday afternoon, after severe weather warnings had been issued for Nebraska and Kansas.

More showers and thunderstorms were predicted for western Nebraska Friday, with no important temperature change.

Thunderstorms were reported east and west of North Platte, northwest of Sidney, north and south of Scottsbluff and southwest of Beatrice. Storms were building in the Chadron and Imperial areas.

Late Thursday the Omaha Weather Bureau warned of a squall line extending along a line from Grand Island to 40 miles west of Goodland, Kan. It was called off later in the night, however.

A severe storm, reportedly accompanied by tornado funnels, struck the northwest Kansas towns of Atwood, Hoxie and Hays Thursday. A private plane was reported down, trees uprooted and utility lines toppled.

Heavy property damage was reported at Hoxie, which apparently was hit by a tornado. There were no known injuries.

The storm dumped 2½ inches of rain in 15 minutes at Atwood, 25 miles to the northwest. Hoxie received 2 inches and Hays had rain, hail and winds up to 85 miles an hour.

Late Wednesday and early Thursday rains pushed the Republican River up in the Guide Rock-Hardy area and some flooding was expected. However, a weather observer at Guide Rock reported late Thursday that the river was dropping and was well within its banks.

Blue River Down

The Blue River, which flowed out of its banks Tuesday after torrential rains, was down Thursday and the Weather Bureau said the deluge of water from Nebraska was causing a rise of four to five feet as it flows into the lower Kansas River.

Early Thursday rain and hail pelted central Nebraska, resulting in an estimated seven inches of rain, washing out roads and causing considerable crop damage.

Ed Hall, operator of the Triple-J Ranch 1½ miles southwest of Grand Island, said between six and seven inches of rain "fell in a short time" early Thursday.

Hail, which accompanied the rain, caused an almost total loss to crops in the area. Water from the cloudburst and from melted hail still covered the Triple-J Ranch some four hours after the storm.

A geological survey team in southwestern Nebraska reported one to three inches of rain in the Maywood-Curtis-Wellfleet area.

One stretch of Highway 83, five miles south of Maywood, was washed out and a road east of Wellfleet was washed badly.

Between Maywood and Curtis lowlands were flooded Thursday and Medicine Creek was running full, but was not expected to flood at Curtis.

The Republican River below the Harlan County Dam was reported to be flooding Thursday.

Coffee Cups Raised For Toast

Former President Harry S. Truman and New York Gov. Averell Harriman "toast" each other over coffee at Harriman's New York home where they had breakfast after walking to meet each other. Truman again professed his intention to remain "neutral" in the Democratic campaign for the nomination of a presidential candidate. (AP Wirephoto.)

HST Narrows Field In Candidate Choice

. . . He'd Prefer Estes Didn't Win

By The Associated Press

Former President Harry S. Truman reiterated he wants to "remain neutral," but made plain he would rather not see Sen. Estes Kefauver win the Democratic presidential nomination.

"I have an inclination to somebody else besides Kefauver," Truman said in New York where he breakfasted with Gov. Averell Harriman, a contender for the nomination.

"We did not discuss candidates," Truman told reporters. Truman said he and Harriman "talked about everything under the sun—my trip to Europe, the forthcoming Democratic convention, the welfare of the world. We also discussed the forthcoming Democratic victory in November."

Thursday's political news was mostly Democratic, with Republicans quiet for the time being.

In Washington, Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga) predicted most of the southern states will vote for Adlai E. Stevenson on the first ballot at next month's Democratic convention in Chicago.

And unless Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas "looms up as a serious candidate, I think all but two or three southern states will be voting for Stevenson on the second ballot."

Johnson, the Senate majority leader, has 56 votes of Texas' "favorite son" and scattered support elsewhere. Johnson has said, however, that he isn't running for anything this year but wants the convention to adopt a "moderate" platform and to nominate the same kind of a candidate.

56 votes

If Johnson should become an active candidate, George said, he would expect several southern states to line up for him immediately.

"But I don't think he wants to be a candidate," George commented.

Kefauver said in Portia, Ark., he has "a little better than 250 votes now" for the presidential nomination. Kefauver, who said he would decline the vice presidential nomination if it were offered him, discounted an assertion by supporters of Stevenson that the former Illinois governor has some 500 delegates lined up.

Stevenson "hasn't got anything like 500 delegates" supporting him, Kefauver said. To get the nomination 686½ votes are needed.

Stevenson, meanwhile, began what he described as a "listening tour" of southern Iowa, where drought conditions prevail.

Roper And Sons Buys Building Site At 43rd, O Streets

Roper and Sons, Inc., a Lincoln mortuary firm, has purchased a 43rd and O tract for the site of its new building, according to C. H. Roper, its president.

Building plans are still being formulated, but it is hoped construction can begin this year, he explained.

The 240-by-300-foot tract, located on the north side of O between 43rd and 44th, was bought under purchase contract for $50,000 from Mr. and Mrs. Carl C. Hudson of 640 So. Cotner.

Roper said the proposed building would be larger than the firm's present building at 1319 N and would include parking facilities.

The firm's two-story building in the downtown area would probably be sold after the new quarters are completed, he said.

Gun Pellets Injure Farm Boy At Play

A 13-year-old Lincoln youth was hospitalized Thursday with a head injury suffered when he reportedly exploded a shotgun shell with a B-B gun.

Wallace Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Royal Snider, of 1010 Harrison, was reported in fair condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

The boy's mother said one pellet was lodged just above his left eyelid, according to an x-ray. It was to be removed Friday morning by surgery.

A second pellet caused a minor wound on his forehead, she said.

The accident occurred about 3 p.m. on the R. A. Schrader farm about three miles south of the State Hospital.

Wallace, who was alone at the time, had been playing on the farm with his younger brother, Ronnie, and Ken Schrader, 11.

Mrs. Snider said Wallace told her that he had shot a shell with the B-B gun, which apparently exploded at fairly close range.

Mrs. Schrader took the injured youth to the hospital following the mishap.

Long Ride

RICHMOND, Ind. (AP)—Returning from a trip to Canada, Dale Edwards lifted the hood of the auto and a pheasant hopped out of the space between his radiator and the front grill. The bird ran into a nearby field and disappeared.

Edwards said he remembered seeing a pheasant hen fly in front of the car at Port Huron, Mich., 300 miles away.

Irrigation Canal Drowning Found

SCOTTSBLUFF, Neb. (AP) — The body of a man who apparently died of accidental drowning was found Thursday morning in the Pathfinder Irrigation District's low line canal.

The man was identified as Robert A. Frazier Sr., 46, of Pine Ridge, S.D. Sheriff Steve Warrick discovered the body while making an aerial check down the canal after the man was reported missing last Sunday.

Nebraska Out Of Race For Animal Lab

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Agriculture Department spokesman said Thursday night the committee picking a site for an $18 million government animal disease laboratory had narrowed its search to nine sites, not including Nebraska.

A committee had been named to seek the laboratory for a Lincoln site.

The nine sites still being considered were: Ames, Ia.; Madison, Wis.; East Lansing, Mich.; Columbia, Mo.; Manhattan, Kan.; Stillwater, Okla.; Athens, Ga.; College Station, Tex.; and Ft. Collins, Colo.

The committee was expected to make its report to Secretary of Agriculture Benson Friday, at Kalispell, Mont. The committee conducted a series of hearings last week at St. Louis, Mo., at which all applicants were heard, including the Nebraska committee headed by Dean W. V. Lambert of the University of Nebraska Agriculture College.

Red Leaders Claim Polish Workers 'Demand' Rebels Be Punished

By SEYMOUR TOPPING

BERLIN (AP) — Polish newspapers and broadcasts stepped up Thursday their demands for "severe punishment" of leaders of the Poznan worker rebellion.

They ignored American and other Western appeals for "humane" treatment of workers jailed after the bloody three-day uprising last week.

The Polish United Workers—Communist—party announced it has received a flood of letters and telegrams from all over the country "expressing confidence in party and government."

ADN, the East German news agency, quoted the messages from workers, farmers and youths as "demanding severe punishment of the ringleaders of the Poznan provocation."

Warsaw radio made no mention of the findings of a special government commission — which has life and death powers—now in the city of Poznan investigating the revolt. Evidence collected by the commission apparently will be used to stage treason trials of those blamed for the uprising that left hundreds dead and wounded.

The radio was silent also on secret police trials now going on of "secondary" violators among the rebel workers.

The daily life of most people in Poznan, a city of 365,000, appargrne tsu ytleiin ently is returning to normal.

Lech Jestka, editor of the Communist newspaper in Poznan, Gazeta Poznanska, said the special commission is still in the city and soon will make proposals to Warsaw to improve the situation.

In the meantime, Jestka said, more than one million zlotys—$250,000 at the official rate—has been paid back in "tax rebates to the workers of the Stalin (Zispo) railway car works."

It was the Zispo workers who touched off the revolt June 28 with a general strike after hearing that some of their delegates had been arrested by secret police.

In West Berlin, deputies in the City Assembly rose in tribute to the worker victims of the Poznan revolt. They heard Speaker Willy Brandt call upon the Warsaw government "to abandon the abominable system of retaliation.

"We ask humaneness and demand the release of political prisoners. The people of Berlin know from their own experience what it means if a population is offered tanks instead of bread, and drumhead courts instead of freedom."

A Western traveler who returned to Berlin last night from an automobile trip through Poland said the Red Army apparently has relaxed its tight security precautions along the East German frontier.

TWO MORE COUNTIES REQUEST 'DISASTER AREA' DESIGNATION

Gov. Victor Anderson Thursday notified Agriculture Secretary Ezra Benson that two more Nebraska counties have asked to be declared drought disaster areas.

Designation as a major disaster area is necessary before a county can get permission for grazing on soil bank reserve acreage.

Anderson, in a telegram, told Benson that Douglas and Polk Counties are requesting the disaster designation.

He also reminded Benson of previous requests from Colfax, Stanton, Platte, Boyd, Knox and Butler Counties for permission for soil bank grazing.

Anderson asked that the U.S. Department of Agriculture inspect the counties "at the earliest possible date."

State Department 'Regrets' Poles Turn Down Free Grain

. . . Reds Call Offer 'Propaganda'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department said Thursday the United States "regrets sincerely" that Poland's Communist leaders apparently have turned down an American offer of free grain.

The offer was made following last week's Poznan riots. Demonstrating workers at Poznan had called for bread.

Warsaw radio said last night the United States offer was "propaganda." It declared Poland would not accept charity from the United States but was prepared to buy grain through commercial transactions.

State Department press officer Lincoln White said Thursday that Poland had made a "phony" offer to buy food last February when it inquired about grain purchases on credit. He said commercial channels were open to Polish purchasers and that the February inquiry to the United States government was not considered to be sincere and therefore was never answered.

White reported that the United States has had no word from the International Red Cross of the Polish rejection as reported by the Warsaw radio. He made clear by his comment that the American offer made through the Red Cross late last week still stands.

The Communist radio declared in the rejection broadcast that "as is well known, there is no hunger in Poland."

State Department officials said that a worker making the equivalent of around $200 a month, the average pay, has to spend about 87 cents for the Polish unit loaf of 2.2 pounds—1 kilo—of bread.

The State Department and White House, White said, had received a flood of telegrams and messages urging them to send help to Poland.

Seward School Budget Hiked To $193,171

SEWARD, Neb. — Members of the Seward city schools board of education have adopted a budget of $193,171 for the 1956-57 school year.

This is an increase of $11,314 over last year's budget. Largest increase is in the teachers' salaries.

U. S. Debt $272 Billion

YOUR SHARE $1,623

. . . As Fiscal Year Starts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government reported Thursday the national debt at the end of the 1956 fiscal year totaled $272,750,813,649.

That figures out to about $1,623 each for every man, woman and child in the country based on latest population estimates of about 168 million.

The Treasury's final daily statement for the fiscal year ending June 30 showed the debt was reduced by $1,623,409,153 from a total of $274,374,222,802 on July 1, 1955.

This is well under the permanent debt ceiling limit of 275 billion dollars set by law.

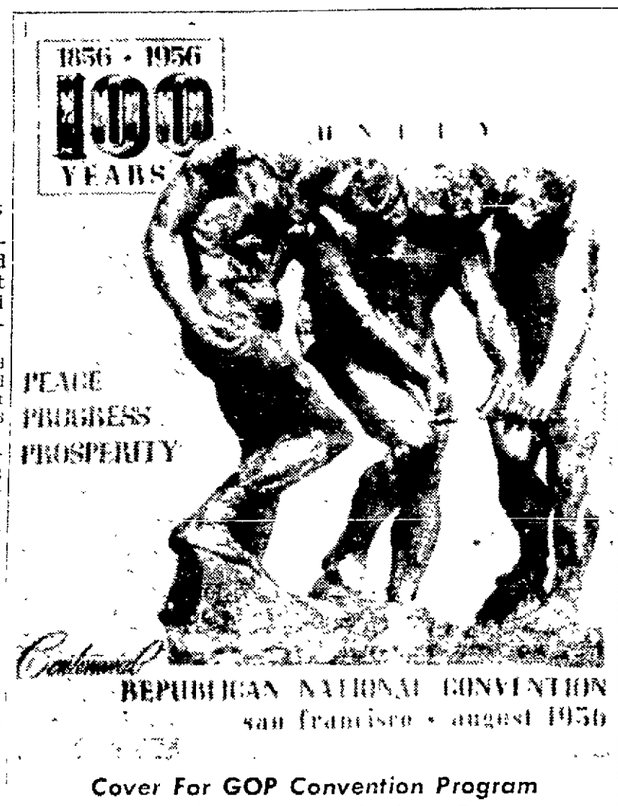

Close To Limit

However, during the last year the government ran close to the 281-billion-dollar temporary limit on occasion. The debt subject to the ceiling touched the highest point in history, $280,310,000,000 last Jan. 4.

For the last two years Congress has permitted a temporary hike in the ceiling to 281 billion dollars to tide the Treasury over the lean taxation period when it has to borrow to keep the government going

Bill Passed

Congress has passed and sent to President Eisenhower a bill to set the temporary ceiling three billion dollars lower—at 278 billion—during the fiscal year which started July 1.

Charles J. Tomek Found Dead Here; Boyd County Clerk

Charles J. Tomek, 63, County Clerk of Boyd County at Butte, Neb., was found dead Thursday noon at the home of his son, 1621 Cheyenne, where the elder Tomek and his wife were visiting over the Fourth of July.

Lancaster County Deputy Sheriff Bill Johnson ruled the death was self-inflicted. He said the family told him, Tomek, who had suffered a stroke about three years ago, was found with a belt around his neck and thrown over a doorknob.

Efforts of a Fire Department resuscitator crews to revive him were futile. He was taken to a Lincoln hospital where he was pronounced dead.

Tomek began working at the Boyd County Courthouse in 1910, and was county treasurer for 17 years before becoming county clerk.

Beside his widow, Ver E., survivors include a son, C. R. Tomek of Lincoln; a daughter, Mrs. Mavis Hammerlun of Norfolk; one sister, Mrs. Helene Elus of Butte, Neb.; and one brother, V. Albert of Butte.

The funeral will be at Butte.

Small Surrendered By Bond Pickup

OMAHA (AP) — Omaha bondsman Bob Cornett surrendered Paul Small, much arrested Omahan, to district Judge L. Ross Newkirk Thursday by withdrawing a $15,000 bond.

The bond had been posted in connection with Small's arrest as a suspect in the jewel and cash robbery of Mrs. Margaret Kellogg several months ago.

Small has been in jail serving a short term for vagrancy and was returned there after the bond withdrawal hearing.

Kansas Farmer Drowns In Basin

ALMA, Neb. (AP)—Joe Lloyd, about 68, a farmer living east of Phillipsburg, Kan., drowned Thursday in the spilling basin of Harlan County Dam near Alma.

Lloyd, wearing hip boots, overalls and a jacket, apparently waded into deep water in the basin, Harlan County Attorney D. A. Russell said.

He was seen trying to swim out, but before help arrived he went under. His body was recovered about an hour later.

Lloyd is survived by his widow.

SALK VACCINE 'COVERS FIELD' IN NEBRASKA

The 474,723 units of Salk polio vaccine Nebraska has received since the start of the program last fall covers the field "pretty well," Al Rouse of the State Health Department said.

Eighty to 85 per cent of the estimated 543,000 eligible persons in the state are expected to want inoculations, he said.

Persons under 20 and pregnant women are eligible.

A new allocation of 54,450 units of vaccine just released brings the state's total since March 1 to 361,000 units.

Girl Recovering After Nine Days In Auto Wreckage

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—A teenaged girl hovered between sleep and semiconsciousness Thursday, but doctors said she was recovering from the nine days spent trapped beneath the wreckage of an automobile.

Searchers found Jean Margetts, 18, Sunnyvale, Calif., Tuesday night. She had been pinned since June 24 beneath an overturned car at the bottom of a 300-foot embankment. Some 20 feet away lay the body of 22-year-old James B. Hixon Jr. of Salt Lake City, her fiance—killed in the crash.

Jean said she could hear cars passing on busy U. S. Highway 40, somewhere above her during the long ordeal. But the wreckage which pinned her remained unseen until an airplane pilot spotted it Tuesday.

Physicians said her "general condition is satisfactory." Hospital attendants described her as more "alert" Thursday.

Weather Blamed

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Police attributed the theft of a three-quarter-ton volume air conditioner to Richmond's 90-plus temperatures the past two weeks.

The thief pried the unit out of a window of a printing firm and never bothered to enter the building, officers said. Hunter Wagener, president of the firm, said detectives told him it was the first such theft reported in Richmond.

War On Pigeons

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Transit Authority decreed that thousands of untidy pigeons that have plagued its Loop elevated stations for years will have to go

The transit system has tried many times before to rid its stations of the birds but never has succeeded.

Now it has declared all-out war and has retained the services of a "professional pigeon eliminator" as part of a cooperative effort in Mayor Richard Daley's campaign for a cleaner Chicago.

Omaha Cops Unwittingly Take Escapees

OMAHA (AP) — Two of three men who escaped Douglas County Jail after bars were sawed, were back in custody within four hours without police knowing the men they held were charges of the county.

One of the men still wore a khaki jail shirt with a large "P" on the back.

The two, Richard D. Comstock, 19, Chicago, and Stanley J. Mallory, 18, Omaha were picked up by the police morals squad and lodged in jail for nearly eight hours Thursday before a report was made they were missing.

Later, the third escapee, George Delbert Williams, 34, Portland, was captured while hitchhiking on West Dodge.

Shakedown

Sheriff Patrick Corrigan said all deputies and trusties were questioned and a complete shakedown of the jail had resulted.

Corrigan said Thursday night, "I have no excuses" for the escape of three car thieves from the Douglas county jail.

He added that the break might have been averted.

The sheriff then said that at least one trusty at the jail appeared to have "been in on the break."

An Omaha newspaper quoted a prisoner as saying he watched the escape proceed undetected for 36 hours and had tried unsuccessfully to pass along word of what was happening to guards.

The bars were sawed and the escapees worked their way to the roof, going downstairs from the top floor jail through an elevator cupola. They apparently hid for a while in Courthouse offices before leaving through a main door.

Comstock and Mallory claimed a workman for a repair firm had left the hacksaw blade where they could reach it. But Sheriff Corrigan said the workmen, repairing the jail locks, had checked one hacksaw blade into the jail and it was still there.

Corrigan said he believed two men reported to have been sawing a bar on a window outside the cell block Wednesday morning were trusties.

Some angle irons were found on the ledge outside the window used by the escapees. Corrigan said they were apparently used to pry two bars after one bar had been sawed. This, he added, led him to believe the three had outside help or help from trusties.

Mallory, Comstock and Williams had been jailed on auto theft charges.

Nixon Says U.S. Stopped Commie Tide

MANILA (Friday) (AP) — Vice President Richard Nixon said today U.S. aid had "stopped the tide of Communist aggression threatening not only Europe but Asia."

Shortly before leaving by plane for Saigon, Nixon told a news conference that checking the Communist advance is the purpose of U.S. aid.

Nixon was asked why the United States was not more conciliatory since Russia has adopted its softer policy.

"As soon as Khrushchev — Communist party chief — and other leaders stop acting like Stalin, we'll have hope for peace in this world," Nixon replied.

"It will be important when Communist leaders begin to give freedom to satellites of East Europe, when they end the artificial condition of Germany and the artificial division of Korea. We have found what Communists say is one thing, what they do is another thing."

U.S. Plane

Nixon said he did not detect any anti-American feeling on his official three-day visit to the Philippines.

Nixon, accompanied by his wife, took off in a special U.S. Air Force Constellation on the next leg of his Far East tour.

In Saigon he will attend the second anniversary of Vietnamese President Ngo Dinh Diem's inauguration.

Nixon, who represented President Eisenhower at the Philippines, 10th anniversary independence celebration, was seen off at the airport by President and Mrs. Ramon Magsaysay and a large group of Filipino and U.S. officials.

Returning Prison

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP)—The United States is returning to Germany most of the big war crimes prison at Landsberg. It once housed hundreds of war criminals, now holds only 20.

Stop Worrying About Luminous Dial Of Watch

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Bureau of Standards specialist says you don't have to worry about the radiation given off by your luminous watch dial—unless you should eat the dial.

Dr. Lauriston S. Taylor, chairman of the National Committee on Radiation Protection, gave the opinion at the request of a House Government Operations subcommittee which has taken testimony on radiation hazards.

Dr. H. Bentley Glass, Johns Hopkins University geneticist, told the subcommittee June 18 that the total amount of radiation absorbed by an individual's sex organs in his reproductive lifetime had an effect on the mutations that would be caused among his descendants.

Watch dials, Taylor wrote, constitute "no hazard to the individual." He added:

"With the small amounts of radioactive material involved in a watch, the chance of radiation damage is so small as to be completely overlooked — unless one were to eat the dial."

Bove, Labor Boss Jailed With Joey Fay, Said Dead

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — James Bove, labor leader convicted with Joey Fay in 1945 for extortion, died June 27 in the hospital at Attica State Prison, the State Correction Department disclosed Thursday.

Death was attributed to uremia, a disease of the blood. Bove was 54.

Fay, who became the center of a political scandal while behind bars, was paroled last February and placed under the supervision of the New Jersey Parole Board, because his home was in Newark, N.J.

Shakedown

Fay formerly was vice president of the Operating Engineers Union. Bove was secretary-treasurer of a local in Yonkers, near New York City. They were convicted of shaking down contractors who were building an aqueduct for New York City.

The prison scandal developed in 1953, when it became known that prominent politicians had been visiting Fay in his cell.

Bove began serving a term of 7½ to 15 years in December, 1953.

Consolidation Efforts Assumed By New Group

A new committee of city and county officials has been named for a fresh look at possible places for consolidation of city and county government activities.

The new group was agreed upon by Mayor Clark Jeary and County Commissioner Chairman Russell Brehm. The committee will consist of councilman Pat Ash, Commissioner Del Lienemann, County Assessor Arthur Davis and City Co-ordinator James Mallon.

The committee will review two specific fields of consolidation:

1. Joint use by both governments of the city jail and abondonment of the county jail.

2. Use of county assessing facilities by the city.

Jeary said he showed Brehm copies of a 1951 contract calling for the housing of county prisoners in the city jail at the rate of $1.25 each per day. This was during a time of remodeling of the county structure.

The city's contract for housing of federal prisoners at the rate of $1.50 each per day was also reviewed.

Recommendations will be made by the committee to both the City Council and County Board.

Playwright Miller Gives Government New Information

WASHINGTON (INS) — Playwright Arthur Miller gave the State Department new information Thursday which he hopes will get him a passport so he can honeymoon in Europe with his bride, Marilyn Monroe.

The information was submitted to the department by Miller's attorney, John L. Rauh Jr. It was understood to include copies of past statements on communism made by the Pulitzer Prize-winning dramatist.

Miller recently told the House un-American Activities Committee he no longer has any sympathy for communism.

He has applied for a passport so he can go to London with Miss Monroe, who is to make a picture there. They were married last Friday.

Miller faces possible contempt charges if he continues in his refusal to supply the House committee with the names of persons he knew as Communists.

Man, 82, Gives Three Robbers Fight For Loot

MILWAUKEE (AP)—John Szucs, who gave three young strongarm robbers a terrific fight before they stabbed him and took his wallet, and $17.00, told police, "If I had been 20 years younger, I'd have licked them all."

Szucs, who is 82, took a bus to the hospital after the encounter.

He also told officers he'd be happy to come down town and examine mug shots of hoodlums, "but not at 3 a.m."

"I need my sleep," Szucs said after his cuts were bandaged at County Emergency Hospital. "How do you expect me to keep in shape?"

Senate-House Conferees Vote Tentative 50 Million Aid Bill Cut

. . . Final Action Planned Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate and House conferees tentatively voted Thursday night to chop 50 million dollars in economic assistance for free Asia, the Middle East and Africa from the Senate version of the multi-billion dollar foreign aid bill.

The Senate passed a bill last week authorizing the spending of $4,562,000,000 in foreign military and economic aid.

The House voted $3,800,000,000. Both figures are less than the $4,900,000,000 asked by President Eisenhower.

The conferees are now trying to reconcile the two versions of the legislation.

Delayed

No final action was taken Thursday night on the 50 million cut.

The conferees, however, postponed until Friday a final vote on that and delayed until then all action over differences on the even more controversial authorizations for military assistance abroad.

Chairman Richards (D-SC) of the House conferees said the conference will resume Friday morning and that if final agreement is not reached during the day, there will be another meeting Saturday.

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) said the conferees agreed tentatively on an authorization of $293,000,000 for economic development assistance for free Asia, the Middle East and Africa.

The House originally voted $243,000,000 for this program, while the Senate voted $343,000,000.

For Loans

They agreed also on compromise language under which 80 per cent of this fund would be earmarked for loans, only 20 per cent for grants, with no more than 25 per cent of the available funds going to any one country.

Richards, who served as spokesman in the absence of Chairman George (D-Ga) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee emphasized that the vote on the economic development fund was tentative and subject to possible change at Friday's session.

Plane Saboteur Offers His Eyes To Blinded Writer

CANON CITY, Colo. (INS)—Doomed plane dynamiter John Gilbert Graham awaited word in his death row cell Thursday on an offer he made to give his eyes to New York Mirror labor columnist Victor Riesel.

The 24-year-old mass killer, convicted of planting a dynamite bomb last Nov. 1 aboard a United Airlines plane, killing 44 persons, including his mother, made the offer secretly three weeks ago.

Graham's attorney, John Gibbons, transmitted the offer in "strict confidence" in care of the Mirror.

However, no reply from Riesel has been received. The newsman has received nearly 1,000 similar offers from throughout the nation.

Graham is scheduled to die in Colorado's lethal gas chamber the week of Aug. 26.

Deer Spotted North Of Town

A "beautiful tawny-colored" deer was seen by a Lincoln woman north of Union Airport Thursday night.

The Lincolnite, who preferred to be unidentified, said she was driving north on 70th St. when she noticed a farmer's herd of cattle excitedly moving in a single direction. When she looked ahead of the heard, she saw the deer, which was described as full grown.

The wild animal gracefully leapt over a pasture fence and darted across the road and down into the Salt Creek bed, said the informant.

No reports of deer in the area were received by the Lancaster County Sheriff's office Thursday, but the incident recalled incidents a year ago when deer roamed near the Omaha Municipal Airport and even into Omaha's uptown business district.

Song Writer Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Composer Harry Link, 60, died Thursday after an extended illness.

His hit songs included "I'm Just Wild About Animal Crackers," "I Got a Feeling I'm Falling," "These Foolish Things Remind Me of You "You're the One I Care for," and "The Miracle of the Bells."

Surviving are his widow, the former Dorothy Dick who also is a song writer, and their daughter.

State Buys New Lincoln For Vic

A 1956 Lincoln Premier, with air conditioning and all, has gone into service as the official governor's car.

Gov. Victor Anderson reported the vehicle was provided him, as all other governors, for use during the recent convention of governors in Atlanta, Ga.

Following their use at the convention, the cars were made available for purchase by the individual states at reduced prices. The vehicle was purchased by the State Highway Department for close to $4,100. The regular sale price is over $6,000.

The car is the first new one put into use by Gov. Anderson. The previous Lincoln was purchased while Gov. Robert Crosby was serving in the office.

Engine Failure

LONDON (Friday) (AP) — An official inquiry said engine failure and a pilot's error caused the crash of a York airliner in Malta, Feb. 18, with the loss of all 50 aboard.

The inquiry ruled out theories the plane was sabotaged by anti-British extremists in Cyprus, where it stopped earlier.

Corn Now Higher Than Farmer

Corn on the irrigated land of Tom Mocroft, a few miles southeast of Waverly, stood higher than the top of its cultivator's hat the day after the Fourth of July. This corn was growing on land in the bed of Camp Creek, under irrigation for the second year. Before planting, Mocroft leveled the field, including many spots which needed filling. (Star Staff Photo.)

Some Lancaster Corn Is Already Taller Than Man

By DICK FELLMAN
Star Staff Writer

Though the old proverb says it should be knee-high by the Fourth of July, one didn't have to look far to find Lancaster County corn that was already taller than a man, one day after the 4th.

On the farm of Tom Mocroft, a few miles southeast of Waverly, an irrigated plot of some 50 acres boasted corn that was well over the head of an average man and quickly approaching six feet high.

This, by all accepted standards, is as Mocroft says, "pretty good corn for this time of year."

If everything goes well, and this includes escaping destruction by the current corn borer pest as well as the ever-increasing grasshoppers, and "the stand" matures all right, Mocroft expects he "could get 100 bushels per acre."

Actually, if everything goes as well as he hopes it should, crop expectations on his low, creek-bed land which will be under constant irrigation from now until harvest could well hit the 125 bushel per acre mark, maybe even higher.

Mocroft has already treated his land with DDT applied in spray form from airplane to attempt to control the corn borers. He has also sprayed around his field's borders for grasshoppers.

The recent rains, Mocroft will tell a visitor, have slowed the wheat harvest. But the rain has certainly made nobody mad and the hot weather, following as it did the rainfall, provided "perfect" corn weather.

And right now, all attention is turned toward the corn, the gold reserve of Nebraska.

Costly Offer

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—A marriage proposal while driving sent the intended bride to a hospital and left about $225 in damages to two cars.

Eugene M. Scherphorn, 25, told officers he proposed to Marylin Kingery, 21, of Big Rapids, and she threw her arms around him, causing him to lose control of his car which struck a parked auto.

Miss Kingery was treated for bruises.

We Scored Well

For the second successive year, according to early returns, Nebraska lived through the July 4 holiday without a traffic fatality.

It was an unique and comforting record and viewed by the accumulating national figures sets Nebraska apart as an exception. Nationally, the Associated Press commented, the traffic deaths are edging close to the pre-holiday estimate of 130 made by the National Safety Council. They stood at 125 at midnight of July 4.

Nebraska's good record reflected a responsiveness to highway supervision and to prudent driving. It was notable that most drivers were exercising unusual care, traveling at moderate rates of speed and playing it safe when danger loomed.

When the good efforts of one special day are projected against a background of every day driving something shows up amiss. It is not an exceptionally safe year on the Nebraska highways. The death toll thus far is moving apace with that of 1955.

The germ of safety which is infecting holiday drivers can become an epidemic with a little culturing. What is needed are fewer anti-toxin shots from the accelerator.

Strike Up The Band!

A reader of The Star, at the self-expressed risk of being dubbed "old-fashioned" nevertheless gave voice a bit wistfully to a desire for a return once more to something that is as American in color and tone as the Fourth of July itself . . .

There are those, she says, who spent their leisure hours in breathless pursuit of the will-o'-the-wisp, searching for pleasure in the high mountains, the seashore, or amid the bright glitter of big city lights . . .

But not for her . . .

Contentment is a small Iowa town . . . the courthouse lawn . . . and a band concert on a Saturday night, where the town and country folk gather for a breath of cool air, a bit of gossip and some good music. For here the best musical talents of the community are gathered together in concert . . .

It was a happy time, she wrote . . . a time of great peace and contentment . . . and her regret is that her own four youngsters caught up in today's rush and fast-moving search for pleasure will never know such a time. The pace was slower then . . . the material possessions of today unheard of . . . but the balance was there in simple peace . . . heartfelt contentment . . .

The conductor raps for attention . . . comes the downbeat . . . and the trumpets blare forth. The bass drummer perspires freely with each lusty swing . . . the tuba oomphs and grunts like a distressed pachyderm . . . the cymbals crash in good timing as the trombonists step forward spryly for a brassy toe-twitching go at the slides . . . and the notes of a rousing Sousa march float out on the warm summer air . . . over the attentive audience . . . over the roofs of the little houses beyond . . . over the treetops . . . and up and out to the heart of a people whose very free beginnings were in lively tune to just such stirring star-studded rhythm . . .

Accent On The Students

Like Mark Twain's weather, America's problem of higher education in volume is something the country is talking a good deal about but doing nothing about.

Thus far communities as well as colleges have carried most of the load, principally in making investments in expanded facilities. But the real business of filling the class rooms with an expanded volume of dedicated, competent young people, of conserving and developing the greatest resource of the nation—well prepared youth—is still going begging. Indeed with the expiration of the GI Bill of Rights which gave financial aid to thousands of young Americans who had served their time in the nation's military establishments the problem is becoming more acute.

In a nutshell the problem is double edged. America is experiencing a shortage of engineers and scientists so greatly more needed in this new technical age. It is slowing the transition at the expense of national progress. It is also placing the United States in an increasingly unfavorable position in respect to security. A more realistic and effective Russian educational program is outstripping us in the most sensitive of all fields.

To what extent? Michigan's Governor Mennen Williams revealed that in five more years Russia will be turning out 85,000 engineers to United States' 38,000. The end result of such an unequal race is easy to compute. It could be the inevitable make-difference but for the fact that, as Williams points out, three-fourths of America's qualified brilliant youth do not enter college and of that three-fourths forty per cent remain uneducated for financial reasons.

One cannot take issue with efforts to construct greater school facilities, but they will be of little consequence if the nation does not address itself to the principle problem—that of filling the classrooms with the maximum number of the right students.

The problem does not need to grow more aggravated. But it demands realistic treatment. More accent must be put on aid to youth with emphasis on their greatest deterrent, lack of the wherewithal.

Russia's Lesson

Officially the United States played it smart when it refrained from inflammatory comment after fed up polish workmen conducted a bloody demonstration at Poznan. The incident spoke for itself in terms all people everywhere can understand.

It is not human nature for people to tolerate tyrannies. It is the ultimate weakness of all totalitarian governments. It is difficult even for a benevolent nation to impress its influence on non members. Truly government is only successful when it springs from the consent of the governed.

Russia is learning something a more enlightened nation already knows. It is getting obedience under greatest duress and as time goes on it can never command co-operation from its satellites. It is a grim future that will never permit relaxation of a police state. Russia's recent experiment in relaxation only brought that fact to clearer light. Doctrines, promises, words do not prevail because the basic approach is a doomed one from the start.

Of all the enlightened provisions the founding fathers set up for this nation it was the basic stipulation that it should have a government by consent of the governed that brought the country so far and will yet stand against time as the greatest security program of them all.

Right This Time

Not long ago Defense Department investigators barged into New York Senator Lehman's office, brushed aside secretaries, and proceeded to give the place a thorough going over—looking to see it was wired for sound. Naturally not only Senator Lehman, but other solons in Washington rose up against such an arrogant invasion. It was appropriate last week when Defense Secretary Wilson apologized to Lehman, forthrightly and publicly. The secretary has achieved some sort of a record for saying the wrong thing at the wrong time, but his prompt and frank apology was one of his better statements and offsets quite a string of his ill-timed breeches.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

What better day in the year could Lincoln's Dick Stuart have chosen to crack the modern Western League record for home runs than his Uncle Sam's birthday, the grand and glorious Fourth. Quite a man—meaning, of course, both your Uncle Sam and Dick Stuart.

★

Speaking of birthdays, the Fourth also happened to be the birthday of the writer of this column and from far and near came many cards both amusing and dear. From the West Coast, for example, there was this card, in addition to a long distance call and other things: "It's your birthday! So what? Who gives a damn." You turn over to the inside and this appears: "I do, silly!" And who would send a card of that kind except a very wonderful, dear daughter. And she and her husband, looking around for something different sent a very novel and enchanting music box, with gay little characters dancing on top, a music box which properly wound gaily plays: "Happy Birthday To You." From Bemidji in northern Minnesota, not too far from the Canadian border came another long distance call from a very dear niece. She and her husband were seated before a blazing fire. It was real cool outside, and the flowers of that summer home never had seemed more attractive. There is one thing very wonderful about America. We like Christmas and all of its tinsel, its tenderness and its thoughtfulness. That is the day for the family to be around as well as a week later when we say goodby to the old and greet the new. It's a great day for a few minutes reflection and a special little prayer to God. We like Thanksgiving with overflowing hearts for this country and its great blessings. And, silly old fool, we like birthdays, take this means of expressing our appreciation to friends who remembered us, and we are quite certain Uncle Sam feels the same way about his much larger family.

So's Your Old Man

★

He likes birthdays in all of his growing maturity. In the sacred chamber of his thoughts to which now and then he retires he says to himself. "Yesterday I was young, ungainly and uncertain. Today I have grown up into the towering stature of a giant, and I am proud of my strength, the bulging muscles, the height which enables me to look over the masses in my world. My prayer is that I shall know the right, and do it in the service of humanity."

★

There is only one force in this world—truth—to give shape, meaning and glory to the light which Uncle Sam holds aloft in his hands that the millions constituting the world's masses ultimately will discover the formula enabling them to live in peace and harmony. We say peace and understanding. We do not even have it among ourselves. In some of our great industrial centers more than a half a million men were idle, out on strike. A prolonged strike could become so serious to Uncle Sam's economy. It was not only the direct loss in pay of those in the employ of the steels plants. Steel is one of the indexes to America's good economic health and it is of such importance that peace returns before too many weeks. It is not the purpose here to discuss the equities or inequities of the steel strike. That is complicated. But in this country we do or we should work together in understanding. Even more important is it for the American newspaper in balanced spirit to try to get at the facts—all of the facts—not just a part of them, and to present its information to the people.

Truth Shall Set Him Free

★

In America as a hangover from 365 days in the year let it be realized that only the truth shall make us free. And that is such a challenge to the press for truth—beautiful as it is—can be so difficult and elusive.

Junketing Cost Ran High In '55

WASHINGTON — Most guarded secret since the H-bomb is how much it cost the taxpayers for last year's congressional globe-trotting. Only a few men know the score, and they aren't telling.

The tabs are still coming in from over 230 senators and congressmen who flocked overseas in the biggest junketing spree in congressional history. The taxpayers who footed the bill, however, can't find out the total cost.

However, this column has been able to check the secret vouchers turned in by congressmen, and here are some of the amounts spent. It should be noted, in fairness, that some of the congressional trips were important and some congressmen did a good job for their country. Some, on the other hand, were pure joyriders. In either case, the public is entitled to know the cost. Here it is:

The taxpayers paid $51,000 for a special Air Force plane to fly Congressmen Sterling Cole (R-NY), O. C. Fisher (D-Tex), George Miller (D-Cal), Walt Norblad (R-Ore), and Bill Bates (R-Mass), around the world. The Air Force escort officer spent another $10,300 of the taxpayers' money on the congressmen for travel expenses. Fisher also took a private $300 side trip in Indonesia.

These basic costs do not include the foreign currency that is ladled out to junketing congressmen for spending money. All they need is a requisition signed by a committee chairman. This is good for free spending money at our embassies in 42 countries.

The foreign currency is taken from special account No 19FT561, which is set aside for the executive use of traveling congressmen. They spend the money by the bushel basket for hotels, meals, entertainment, night clubs, souvenirs, and whatever suits their fancy. No accounting is asked and none given except for vague totals.

The secret vouchers also do not include the free rides congressmen were given on Air Force planes and Navy ships that were going their way anyhow. By Congress' curious bookkeeping, these free rides cost the taxpayers nothing, since the planes and ships didn't go out of the way.

What isn't mentioned is that the lawmakers usually displace military passengers. For example, a Senate appropriations subcommittee, including wives and aides, displace 40 military wives and children booked to join their menfolk in Europe last September.

Leaving out the free spending money and free rides, it cost the taxpayers plenty for most of the congressional trips. In many cases, these trips were good investments, since the congressmen worked hard studying foreign problems and spreading good will. Most of them simply had a lavish overseas holiday, however, at the taxpayers' expense.

GOP Chairman, Len Hall had his heart set on staging a fast, three-day convention, but was forced by San Francisco businessmen to change his mind. Since they had put up the money for the convention, they insisted on keeping delegates there for at least four days.

Inflation Finger Pointing At Steel

WASHINGTON—The Eisenhower administration is cautiously optimistic that the steel strike will not be prolonged, to the point where the public interest is clearly affected.

Their reasoning is cogent and almost brutally simple. For they do not believe that either the steel companies or the steel unions can stand the bright white light of publicity on the extent to which both have already contributed to postwar inflation.

Some such studies were set in motion when the steel strike first loomed on the economic horizon. They are not in final form and are being jealously guarded from public view. But their trend is well known to the circles which watch the progress of the national economy.

In general, they show that steel is the leader by a wide margin of postwar inflation. Its profits are substantially bigger than the average and its labor also has moved ahead. While labor's advances lag behind the employers' profits by a big margin, the studies indicate that steel labor productivity has not increased as much as labor productivity in other industries.

☆ ☆ ☆

Doubtless there are pleas in mitigation which both the employers and unions can and would direct against these studies. The unions were working upward from a low level; steel was rigorously controlled during the war.

Nevertheless, the figures, as they appear at first glance, tell a powerful story that would put the whole industry on the defensive.

Some members of Congress believe that steel's story ought to be generally advertised as a warning to the country of the speed and extent to which the fires of inflation are being fed, both by the administration and by Congress.

As Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia has long contended without acquiring much of an audience, there has been no real difference between this administration and its Democratic predecessors with respect to inflation. Both not only have countenanced it; they have merrily helped it on its way.

☆ ☆ ☆

Steel leads the inflationary parade, but it has never made a serious, if any, effort to absorb rising labor costs. It has immediately added to its own costs all the new labor costs, and something besides to take care of any contingency.

Its clotted cream has come from the fact that while steel costs are inevitably reflected elsewhere, there is an inevitable time lag before other costs rise. But steel never waits.

This was shown again last week when Union President David J. McDonald offered to postpone a national steel strike for 15 days, provided that any wage increases and other benefits mutually agreed upon should become effective as of the original deadline.

The industry replied it could not do this because it could not make higher steel prices retroactive. The New York Times account of the negotiations said that "in the past the industry has barred retroactive pay adjustments on the ground that price increases cannot be applied retroactively."

Russia Outstrips US School Program

NEW YORK — If we are losing the war of science to the Russians, some feel we are not losing it at the level of the plane, missile and bomb designers but, rather, at the level of the elementary and secondary school.

"Not enough of our young people are finishing high school," outspoken Princeton man Mennen Williams, governor of Michigan, said at the recent governor's conference. "Just a little more than one half of the children who completed the fourth grade are going on to finish all twelve grades," he continued.

"Of the young people who do finish high school only about one fourth go onto college. It is said that three fourths of the really qualified and brilliant youth of America do not enter college. It has also been estimated that 40 per cent of the top one fourth of the nation's youth do not go to college because of financial reasons—to put it bluntly because their parents cannot afford it. The nation is thus wasting a great potential of brainpower which will be of increasing importance as we go farther into the age of automation and atomic power.

"This situation is one that goes to the heart of our ability to further develop our free way of life, and even to our very ability to survive."

The superior size of the Red army is of comparatively small interest to Washington officials. The growing might of a group that is a tiny fraction of that army numerically speaking is of serious concern. Atomic Energy Commissioner Lewis Strauss has said:

"In five years our lead in the training of scientists and engineers may be wiped out and in 10 years we could be hopelessly outstripped. Unless immediate steps are taken to correct it, a situation, already dangerous, within less than a decade could become disastrous."

Williams told the governors, "Industry is unable to get in sufficient number the college graduates it needs. We are so short of engineers that our vital aircraft industry has had to look to Europe for the training and talents it must have.

"In the Soviet Union they have been turning out engineers at two and three times the rate of graduation from our American schools. In five years, it is estimated, the Soviet will be turning out 85,000 engineers a year, as compared with 38,000 in the United States."

The Williams' program would call for federal and/or state support of gifted students who might otherwise never finish school. He points out that there were 20,000 applicants for the 100 General Motors national scholarship awards, and 58,000 applicants for the 504 national merit scholarship prizes.

MAN'S BEST FRIEND

Dogs Know Danny As Dapper Dude

By ALLEN EDEE
Star Staff Writer

Dan, the dog, is a dapper dude when wearing duds—that is a handsome knitted bright red coat.

Danny, a half Chihuahua, half Toy Terrier, prances and struts in his coat which encases his seven pound 14 inch high body. The canine, owned by the Arlo R. Skinners and their two boys, Rodney, 7, and Ronald, 6, doesn't just wear the coat for its looks, however. The tiny dog gets so cold in the winter that Mrs. Skinner decided Danny needed more than his fur coat to keep him warm.

So come those cold winters and drifting snow, the canine is dressed up before he steps a foot out-of-doors.

His fancy dressing has caught the eye of an impressed three-year-old neighbor girl. She often walks up to the Skinner home at 500 Eastborough Lane and rings the doorbell for a playmate. She isn't interested in the two boys for companionship, only Danny the dog. Danny's friendship has paid off for him—in some mighty succulent bones.

The two-year-old dog bunks in the same room with Rodney and Ronald but in his own bed, a comfortably blanketed apple crate. He'll follow the boys to bed but arises at 5 a.m. to see the head of the house off to work. Once that is done, Danny quickly jumps back into bed for another couple of hours of sleep.

Foreign Policy Test, Make Or Break

WASHINGTON — It is becoming increasingly evident that the election campaign this fall will be a make-or-break test for the foreign policy of the United States and the bipartisan support that during the past decade has sustained a policy of aid for and co-operation with the free and neutral nations of the world.

How important this test is likely to prove is obscured momentarily by the dispute over President Eisenhower's availability and capacity. But those who have studied the record of the debate and the roll calls on the foreign aid bill in the Senate are aware that with the new Congress in January there may well come a sharp reversal.

On several roll calls, conspicuously on the issue of continuing aid to Yugoslavia, a majority of Democrats supported the position of the Eisenhower administration while a majority of Republicans voted against the administration. In so doing, many Democrats up for re-election felt they were sticking their necks out dangerously far.

If in October Vice-President Richard M. Nixon conducts the kind of campaign he conducted in 1954, accusing the Democrats of being soft to Communism, if anti-Eisenhower Republicans charge these same Democrats with disloyalty to Ike and call for a Congress to back the President, then an Eisenhower administration in a second term will find itself in grave trouble.

Sen. Walter George of Georgia, who has so often raised his powerful voice decisively in favor of administration policy, will no longer be in the Senate and what influence he can exert will be at second hand.

☆ ☆ ☆

This is the stern political reality which responsible persons in the administration—if they are capable of exercising their responsibility—must reckon with. They cannot, of course, control the irresponsibles, such as Sen. Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin, who has been pretty thoroughly disclaimed by the Eisenhower party in any event.

The memorandum of the Republican policy committee of the Senate, quoting a convicted Communist to try to show that the Communists favor the Democratic party, is an unhappy portent.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles had put extraordinary stress on continuation of aid to Yugoslavia and he said his concern was shared by the President. Yet what happened in the Senate? The Republican leader, Sen. William F. Knowland of California, led the fight for the amendment of Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, chairman of the Republican Policy Committee, to strike out aid for Yugoslavia.

Virtually the only Republican voice raised for the President was that of Sen. Alexander Smith of New Jersey, who has loyally supported administration policy even on the touchiest issues.

On the vote, the Republicans split 23 to 21 against the administration while the Democrats divided 29 to 15 for the policy that Dulles had urged as vital to America's position.

Both Democratic senators from Oregon, Richard Neuberger and Wayne Morse, voted for aid to Yugoslavia.

☆ ☆ ☆

Afterward, Neuberger recalled that in his hard-fought campaign two years ago Sens. Herman Welker of Idaho and George Malone of Nevada had come into Oregon to campaign for former Sen. Guy Cordon on a "support Ike" appeal. Both Welker and Malone voted against the administration on the Yugoslav issue. Morse, who switched from Republican to Democrat in 1952, is up for re-election in a contest into which the GOP national organization is planning to put large sums of money.

Neuberger voted four times for the administration on reciprocal trade. Yet, because of his stand on this issue he has got more hostile mail than on anything else during his two years in the Senate, with Oregonians protesting angrily about imports of Japanese tuna fish and Italian cherries.

It is this kind of risk which Democrats will no longer take if at election time it is to be turned around to help defeat them. Nor will Republicans take risks either, since the example of Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin, a consistent supporter of the Eisenhower foreign policy, has been written large in the sky. Wiley has been given the brush-off treatment by the White House while the old guard in Wisconsin has maneuvered to knock him out in the primary.

This question is much larger than party, involving as it does the future of America in the struggle with Communism. But in a presidential year the chips will fall strictly on party lines.

TEACHERS ALL

"Beware of members," said the pro,
"And stay beyond their reach.
Because if close to them you go
They'll promptly start to teach.
Golf changes in a curious way
Both brilliant and the dumb.
Regardless of the way they play,
Instructors they become.

"Upon the course they will be met
And on the practice tee.
They'll give advice that you'll regret.
And give it to you free.
They're found in numbers everywhere.
Your faults they plainly view,
And they will tell you then and there
Just how and what to do...

"They'll name the club you should have used
The hole in par to score,
But they will leave you more confused
Than you have been before...
Those self-made teachers never heed.
They only think they know.
If it is golf advice you need,
You'd better see your pro."

Auditorium Arena

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star:

As one approaches the city auditorium from the east, the first impression it gives is that one is seeing a cold storage plant. Of course that part had to be sacrificed for the useless mosaic. Why was not the entire building faced with Bedford stone? Some of the scenes the mosaic depicts will not be seen in the auditorium due to the smallness of the arena.

The auditorium brains even went so far as to try to eliminate the skating rink for other useless frills. I notice the compressor for air-conditioning costs twice as much as the ice rink compressor.

What puzzles me is how nearly 1,800 people seated in the east end can see the stage productions. I suppose the stage floor will be moved out into the arena on rollers. Or perhaps spectators will be furnished periscopes. The people of Lincoln are paying dearly by not having a representative form of city government.

GEORGIA'S SEN. GEORGE PREDICTS:

'Most Of Dixie Will Support Adlai On Early Ballots'

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George (D-Ga) predicted Thursday that most Southern states will vote for Adlai E. Stevenson for the Democratic presidential nomination on the first ballot at next month's party convention.

Sen. George

"And unless Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) looms up as a serious candidate, I think all but two or three Southern states will be voting for Stevenson on the second ballot," George said in an interview.

Johnson, the Senate majority leader, has 56 convention votes as Texas' "favorite son" and scattered support elsewhere. A heart attack victim a year ago, Johnson has said he isn't running for anything this year but wants the convention to adopt a "moderate" platform and nominate the same kind of candidate.

If Johnson should become an active candidate, George said he would expect several states to line up immediately behind the Texan.

"But I don't think he wants to be a candidate," the Georgia senator observed.

George took a leading role in drafting and circulating a recent manifesto signed by nearly 100 Dixie members of the Senate and House calling for reversal by legal means of the Supreme Court's decision for racial integration in the schools.

The senator said he doesn't think the South is satisfied with Stevenson's position that the decision is law and must be put into effect gradually. But he said he believes the 1952 nominee is more acceptable in Dixie than other party aspirants.

In this connection, George said he doesn't believe there will be any third party movement. He added that the chances of a convention walkout will be small if Stevenson wins in the early balloting.

"But he will have to win by the third ballot or anything can happen," George said.

He didn't spell this out, but it seemed an obvious reference to what appears to be a widespread belief n the part of Southern Democrats that Gov. Averell Harriman of New York might get the prize in later balloting.

Harriman is regarded by many Dixie Democrats as a much more emphatic advocate than Stevenson of making school integration effective. Harriman's nomination might spur a walkout and third party efforts.

Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala), Stevenson's 1952 vice presidential running mate, said he thinks the fear of a Harriman victory if Stevenson is blocked will act to speed Southern votes into Stevenson's column.

"It may be a case in which the South will feel that it had better get in early with its support or risk Harriman's nomination," he observed.

Stevenson's backers now are claiming their candidate will roll up on the first ballot more than 500 of the 686½ votes needed for the nomination.

Elgin Company Gets Contract For Nike Work

. . . In Lincoln Plant

The Elgin National Watch Company has been awarded a two-phase contract for production engineering and production of the Nike guided missile safety and arming mechanism.

Richard M. Brandes, Elgin plant manager in Lincoln, said all work on the Nike assignment will be done at Lincoln, including initial engineering and subsequent manufacturing.

He said the contract, awarded by Diamond Ordnance Fuse Laboratories, Washington, D. C., and the St. Louis Ordnance District, totals about $200,000.

An official of the firm said the contract will not result in any increase in personnel "at present."

This is the first Nike assignment awarded the company. The Nike missile is the chief Army weapon for municipal anti-aircraft defense.

Armed Forces Cut Denied By Pentagon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Asst. Secretary of Defense Carter L. Burgess Thursday denied rumors that the armed forces are planning a cutback soon in their 1,850,000 personnel strength

Burgess offered this testimony before the Senate Armed Services Committee as he won approval of that group for an increase of more than 60,000 in the number of officers on active duty in the Air Force and Army who may have regular career commissions.

Chairman Russell (D-Ga) asked Burgess, top manpower authority for the Pentagon, about reports that "substantial reductions are planned in the armed services."

Wilson Chat

"None at the present time," Burgess replied, adding that he had talked about this with Secretary of Defense Wilson recently. Burgess said the long-range plans aim at maintaining the military forces at 2,850,000 for at least the next five years unless development "of new and dynamic weapons" permit manpower reductions

Burgess and Air Force and Army officers urged passage of the House-approved bill to boost the percentages of regular officers in both the Air Force and Army to the 50 per cent of strength now authorized for the Navy and Marine Corps.

At present most of the officers on extended active duty with the Air Force and Army are reserves President Eisenhower asked the larger percentage of regular career officers as an incentive for retaining more able military leaders

LAFB Housing Progress Good Says Builder

The family housing unit project at the Lincoln Air Force Base is "just getting a good start, but progressing as scheduled," according to W. Lane Rivers, representative of the J W Bateson Co. of Dallas, Tex, which holds the overall contract for the project

Part of the work on the project, which includes 400 on-base housing units as well as streets, lighting, sewers and other developments, has been subcontracted to Lincoln firms

Rivers said that work on the project has been delayed for a total of 'six or seven weeks' due to various reasons, but that it should be finished in November 1957 as scheduled

Work has been done on close to 100 buildings which are in various stages of construction," according to Rivers. He said the rough grading for streets was almost completed" and that storm and sanitary sewers are 'more than half finished"

The overall contract was awarded to Bateson for $5,041,850 25

Plans Vetoed

WASHINGTON (INS)—The House vetoed two of President Eisenhower's reorganization plans.

One was designed to provide the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corp with its own management, independent of the federal home loan bank board

The second plan would have established an office of assistant secretary for research and development in each of the military services. The House has already adopted a bill which, if approved by the Senate, would provide for three assistant secretaries

Daring Copter Crews Land Near Wreckage

Further Evidence Of Air Collision Brought From Side Of Canyon

GRAND CANYON, Ariz. (AP)—Daring Army helicopter crews Thursday finally succeeded in landing on a tiny pinnacle 2,600 feet above the Grand Canyon floor where a United airliner crashed last Saturday after colliding with a TWA plane in a tragedy that took 128 lives.

They found further evidence of a collision of the two giant airliners in commercial aviation's worst accident.

The first helicopter to reach the almost inaccessible spot was piloted by Capt. Walter Spriggs of Smackover, Ark., who said the landing was made on a spot no larger than the 'copter itself.

Experts had predicted neither helicopters or ground crews would ever reach the crash site.

"If you misjudge the distance by 10 or 15 feet," Spriggs said, "you would drop maybe 1,000 feet into the canyon. It's real dangerous."

Spriggs and W. O. Howard Proctor of Kings Mountain, N.C., brought out a piece of cowling UAL engineers said definitely was from a DC-7 and another piece painted red and white which Gordon Gilmore, TWA publicist, said bore markings "similar" to those of TWA's Superconstellations.

Not Determined

R. P. (Jack) Parshall, Civil Aeronautics Board investigator, said it had not been determined if the white and red striped metal was from the TWA plane.

The CAB has refused to issue any statement on the cause of the tragedy until the investigation is completed.

A second helicopter was flown in by C. W. O. Bill Pierson of Twin Falls, Idaho, and Lt. Paul Walter of Washington, Pa. They dropped two mountain climbers, Raymond Batson and L. David Lewis of Boulder, Colo., on the top of the rock spur where the wreckage lies.

They carried rope ladders to be dropped to crews trying to get up from the base of the butte near the Colorado River 2,600 feet below.

Grounded

Then the helicopters, in steady use since the wreckage was found Sunday, were grounded for servicing. If they are ready for service again Friday, it is planned to drop two more mountain climbers and a CAB investigator at the scene.

Any bodies found by the two men left in the canyon Thursday will be brought out Friday.

Spriggs said the 'copters landing try was strictly a gamble.

"The site of the TWA landing was actually smaller," he said, "but it was a more ideal situation."

"The Colorado River is the only safe emergency landing place in the canyon," he said. "At the TWA site you could make a successful landing in the river in an emergency. You lose the river to get to the UAL site."

The UAL site is on top of a ridge and slopes off both sides and into the cliff.

DELAPLANE'S POSTCARD

The road out of Aspen, Colo., runs over Independence Pass, more than 12,000 feet up in the Rockies.

When Aspen was a booming silver town, they used to run supplies over the roads from Leadville. Ran them over on toboggans at night when the snow crusted over.

It was over this road that the silver king, H. A. W. Tabor, brought the unblushing Baby Doe Tabor. An elegant Eighties scandal that you can buy on the newsstand for $1, "The Silver Queen."

(For another $1 you can buy what the former Mrs. Tabor thought about Baby Doe and Tabor's attitude. She didn't think much of it, I can tell you that.)

Tabor installed Baby Doe in a fancy gilt-paper nest up at Ashcroft and declared free drinks for all the miners. Today Ashcroft is the ghostliest of ghost towns. The movie companies dressed it up a little and made "Lone Ranger" films there. Hi-yo, Silver!"

The road runs through aspen groves with fountains of waterfalls and trout streams.

There were skiers at the top of the pass. Sliding down the last remnants of the winter snows that make Aspen one of the greatest of American ski resorts.

The road drops smartly after that, with great cliff sides enough to make your stomach jump. Mine did, anyway. A nervous type.

There are beaver dams in the meadows in the bottom.

This was not the heart of the fur trade. The Americans trapped further north. Up in Wyoming and Idaho and Montana. They left the Colorado Rockies to trappers who came up here from Taos.

That amazing liar and mountain man, Jim Beckwourth, trapped in here at one time. Spent the winter at Pueblo. A California reporter got hold of Jim when he was aging and living in California. (Where they misspelled and named Beckwith Pass for him.)

Beckwourth sat the pop-eyed reporter down and told him enough for a book that will make your hair curl. According to him, he had massacred more Indians than ever lived on the Great Plains.

But the thing I remember best is when Jim's Indian wife crossed him—wouldn't hand him his slippers or something.

Jim picked up a belt hatchet and chopped her head in two.

The girl's father approved, Jim told the reporter. In fact, he immediately married the girl's sister, who, I suppose, handed Jim the slippers promptly whenever he said so.

Today, of course, Pueblo is a big industrial town. You cannot trap beavers in the wild Rockies or chop a lady's head in two. At least not that and marry her sister five minutes later.

The Forest Service traps beaver once in a while when they get too thick and begin damming streams to where they flood the country.

They don't kill them. They put them in a box and parachute them into country where it might help the streams to be dammed a little. The box has a little catch that releases when it hits the ground.

I would like to see a parachuted beaver sometime. I would like to hear the stories he tells the other beavers.

It must top Jim Beckwourth's best.

So I drove down the mountain into Pueblo. Stopping to read the historical markers of pioneers and very scholarly remarks reduced to billboard size. But not a word about axing Mrs. Beckwourth. Which I consider an oversight and call to the attention of the State of Colorado.

JACKSON, Wyo. (AP) — It was a fortunate combination of vehicles trapped 12 hours in a mountain road block. A milk truck provided beverage, a gas truck provided gasoline and a freight truck supplied cigarettes.

Ike Politely Nixes 'Atomic Bank' Idea Of Demo Congressmen

. . . Increased Nuclear Production Not Needed, President Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has politely turned down a proposal by Sen. Anderson (D-NM) to increase production of nuclear materials and to allocate some of it to an atomic bank.

Anderson, chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, made the suggestion in a May 24 letter to Eisenhower. It was cosigned by Sen. Jackson (D-Wash) and Rep. Price (D-Ill), chairmen of subcommittes of the parent atomic energy group.

They wrote that "we do not imply there is a critical shortage of fissionable materials," but emphasized "we believe increased production is necessary."

The letter said the atomic bank "would offer the nation a critical reserve for peace or war." The present allocation formula, it said, "leaves no uncommitted reserve from which either reactor fuel elements or defensive weapons could be fabricated in an emergency."

The President, in a June 13 letter released by Anderson Thursday, took an optimistic view about the present atomic energy program and raised objections to Anderson's recommendations.

Eisenhower wrote, "I consider the program as it is today in healthy condition," with respect to contracts to buy uranium ore, processing facilities, and stockpile policy.

"I consider our fissionable material much too valuable to be placed in an atomic Fort Knox for in existing world conditions the weapons stockpile must continue to have first call," said the President.

"Fortunately, the condition of fissionable material in weapons is little altered from the form needed for reactor use. Therefore, its storage in weapons will not inhibit its later use for power or other peaceful purposes."

The President wrote that he understood Congress wanted the military to have top priority in all distribution of fissionable materials.

"I subscribe fully to this concept," he said.

Eisenhower said any significant increase in the planned production rate of fissionable materials first would require bigger uranium ore supplies.

"In addition," he said, "it would require the construction of new production facilities, recruitment of scarce technical manpower, and the appropriation and expenditure of larger construction and operating funds.

"Even assuming the availability of additional ore supplies, several years would elapse before the effort could increase production, and additional time would have to pass before a considerable stockpile of fissionable materials would be produced."

Eisenhower said, "Our present and expected rate of production of fissionable materials is already high."

State Checking Truck Ton-Mile Levy Petitions

The secretary of state's office in Lincoln Thursday began checking petitions requesting that the truck ton-mile tax proposal be placed on the November ballot in Nebraska.

If the petitions are found to be sufficient, a form of title to be used on the ballot will appear, according to the attorney general's office.

There is little doubt about the sufficiency of the petitions, however. C. E. Beals, secretary-treasurer of the "Committee for Better Roads Through Taxation," has estimated that "almost 50,000 signatures' 'appear on the petitions.

The number necessary this year to place an initiative proposal on the ballot in Nebraska is 29,031.

Governor Proclaims Farm Safety Week

The week of July 22nd through the 28th has been proclaimed National Farm Safety Week by Gov. Victor Anderson.

The proclamation stated that whereas farm accidents have reached such an "alarming rate," "I sincerely urge all Nebraskans to join in a concentrated campaign to eliminate the causes of farm accidents."

Safety education and improved working conditions were given as measures that can reduce the accidents.

Israel Claims No Troops At Border

. . . Big Four Powers Assured

JERUSALEM (AP)—Israel told the Big Four powers Thursday night it is not massing troops on the Arab borders. The Israelis accused the Arabs of spreading reports of such concentration to cover up military movements of their own.

But a U.N. spokesman announced there were no confirmed troop concentrations whatever anywhere along the Israel-Arab armistice lines.

The U.N. statement was based on intelligence from observers attached to the U.N. truce supervision organization. The spokesman said neither the Arabs nor Israel had complained about any such concentrations.

Walter Eytan, director general of the Israeli Foreign Ministry, summoned the envoys of Britain, the United States, Russia and France and informed them any reports of an impending Israeli attack on Jordan are fictitious.

This followed a day of heightened tension on the borders. One Jordanian was wounded in a minor skirmish on the northern sector.

A military source in the Arab-held old part of Jerusalem said the Jordan army, with orders to shoot back if attacked, silenced Israeli patrol fire in a 10-minute clash.

In the Israeli part of Jerusalem a military spokesman reported one Jordanian who crossed the border in northern Samaria was wounded in an exchange of fire with a watchman.

Reports from Arab Jerusalem said the Jordan army was being concentrated and reinforced all along the Jordan-Israeli armistice line, scene of bloody conflict in the 1948 Palestine war.

Young King Hussein accompanied army units moving into advanced positions on the border Wednesday.

With him went the chief of staff of the Jordanian army, Maj. Gen. Ali Abunowar. They returned to Amman early Thursday.

At noon Thursday, Hussein summoned an urgent meeting of the Supreme Jordan Defense Council.

Informed sources reported Jordan Thursday received assurances from Egypt, Syria, and Lebanon that their armies were ready to help if Israel attacks.

Eytan Thursday emphatically denied reports that Israel was massing troops on the borders. These reports came from a number of Arab capitals Wednesday.

County Bridge Needs Repairs After Flooding

A 100-foot county bridge on West Calvert south of Camp Minis Kuya has been closed for repairs by the Lancaster County Bridge Department.

County Engineer L. W. Weaver said the recent Salt Creek flooding has scoured out the bridge's west abutment, undermining piling and dropping the western approach of the bridge about eight inches.

New piling for the steel bridge with a wooden floor will be put in place within a few days, Weaver said.

Other damage to county roads and a culvert by the heavy rains and some flooding was minor, he said.

Two Abstracts Due

Army Issues A September Draft Call For 14,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has issued a draft call for 14,000 men in September.

This is 1,000 more than the previously announced quotas for July and August. It also is the largest monthly draft by a single military service since January, 1955.

The September call brings to 2,084,430 the total number drafted or earmarked for induction since the adoption of Selective Service in September 1950.

The increased Army draft calls during the first part of the 1957 fiscal year result from the large number of men who are completing their enlistments.

The Nebraska call for September will be 150-160 men, Col. Francis Drath of Nebraska headquarters of Selective Service estimated. The state quota for August is 141.

HEADWAITER ACCUSED OF TAX EVASION

. . . $11,000 Worth

NEW YORK (AP) — A second headwaiter of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel was indicted Thursday on charges of failing to pay federal income taxes on tips.

Arthur Hagedorn, 54, was accused by a Brooklyn grand jury of cheating the government out of $11,731 on his 1952 and 1953 income tax returns.

Hagedorn was the successor as Waldorf headwaiter for 65-year-old Hans Paul, who on April 24 was sentenced to four months in prison and fined $7,500. Paul had been charged with failure to report more than $67,000 received in tips between 1949 and 1952.

Minnesotan Gets Life For Slaying Cashier In Holdup

MINNEAPOLIS (INS) — A 31-year-old Minnesota man who had confessed to the killing of a bank cashier was sentenced in Minneapolis federal court Thursday to a life prison term.

Federal Judge Gunnar Nordbye also sentenced James P. Taylor, the defendant, to a pair of consecutive 10-year terms, making parole virtually impossible.

Taylor looted the Northern State Bank of Thief River Falls, Minn., of $1,750 in cash and $14,000 in travelers checks last Oct. 6.

Kenneth E. Lindberg, a cashier, was forced by Taylor to accompany him in his (Lindbergh's) car. Taylor drove off the main highway leading to Minneapolis and beat his victim to death with a hatchet.

Taylor was arrested last December in Joplin, Mo., and returned to the Hennepin County Jail in Minneapolis.

Soviet Says U.S. Muzzle Would Help

MOSCOW (INS)—Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov said Thursday "the muzzling of cold war propagators in the United States" is an "essential condition" for normalizing Soviet-American relatoins.

Shepilov told western newsmen he believed there now exists a "broad basis" for improving relations between the two countries.

He said: "I do not think the Soviet press can be accused of having made unfounded attacks upon the United States for some time past. But the United States press and radio is still a 'Niagara' of lies and slander."

Shepilov spoke while the Communist party newspaper Pravda was complaining: "In order to attain their dirty aims, imperialists employ lies, falsifications and blood provocations, like the attempt on the part of the American agents to create disturbances in Poznan."

(Poznan is the Polish city where anti-red workers rebelled for food and freedom last week.)

Pravda accused U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles of "grave errors" and wishful thinking in expressing the opinion that the Communists of several countries are in a chaotic state as a result of the anti-Stalin campaign.

Around Town--Briefly

THE THINGS we have to tell in the way of news this morning we'd better tell quickly, on account of and because we are a wee bit crowded — The first news we heard involves Mr. and Mrs. Allen Barnard (Betty Vogt), who are in town for a few weeks, the guests of Mrs. Barnard's mother, Mrs. Eleanore Vogt. Mr. and Mrs. Barnard have just arrived in Lincoln from Parris Island, S. C., where Mr. Barnard completed his three years of duty as a sergeant in the Marine Corps.

In August Mr. and Mrs. Barnard will go to Bellevue where Mr. Barnard will be a music instructor in the public schools and where, of course, they will reside.

To welcome Mrs. Barnard home Mrs. Ron Clark will be a coffee hostess this morning when she entertains at her home. The 10 guests have been invited for 10 o'clock.

Mrs. Barnard, by the way, is the former Betty Vogt, Alpha Phi at Nebraska.

THIS morning, Miss Georgia Hudson, whose marriage to Lt. Richard M. Gilfallan will take place at the Church of the Holy Trinity, Episcopal, on July 28, makes announcement of the bridal party.

For her matron of honor Miss Hudson has chosen Mrs. Shirley Krause, and the bridesmaids will be Miss Jean Gilfallan, Stillwater, Minn., sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Ann Schleiger.

Robert E. Hudson, brother of the bride-elect, will serve Lt. Gilfallan as best man, and the ushers will include Allen Michlete and Richard Hudson, also a brother of the bride.

* * *

IN prenuptial courtesy to Miss Hudson Mrs. Lora Hartman and Mrs. Alice Simmons were hostesses at a dessert supper last Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Hartman. The soon-to-be bride was presented with a miscellaneous shower.

* * *

SOMEONE told us that Mrs. Philip Aitken and her son, Jimmy, have returned from New York City where they were on hand to bid bon voyage to their daughter and sister, Miss Jean Aitken who, with her cousin, Miss Nancy Aitken, sailed last week for Europe.

* * *

AND also back in town are Mr. and Mrs. Foster Woodruff, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Al Potter who returned on Sunday from Cass Lake, Minn., where they had a holiday at the Woodruff summer home.

THE STAR IN SUBURBIA

There was nothing but excitement for the younger set out in South Hills this week — and we needn't inquire about it, for we imagine that the adults were just as intrigued in the colorful displays on the Fourth as were the youngsters. Besides the display of fire works we learned of the usual barbecues, picnics, fishing and swimming trips, which are always prevalent on a holiday.

Entertaining at a Fourth of July barbecue, were Mr. and Mrs. Milton Hagelberge, young Milton, Susan, and Karen, when they had as their evening guests, Mr. and Mrs. William Rienders.

And speaking of Mrs. Hagelberge, we found that she is busy preparing to send two of her children to camp next Sunday. Susan who will spend a week at Camp Catron, Nebraska City, and Milton, who is leaving for Camp Augustine, in Grand Island.

Understand that several families in South Hills had neighborhood gatherings to display fireworks for their children. The John Burt residence was the setting for a picnic supper and a colorful display, when they and their son, Jay, joined Mr. and Mrs. Bill Baker, Kathy, and Leigh Ann, and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Thompson, Scott and Bruce, Fourth of July evening.

Also spending the Fourth together were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Beadell, and their children, Holly, Robbie, and Nancy; Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Heelan, and their children, Kim, Colleen, and Kevin; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Zimmerman, Linda and Gerri, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Baker, Kim and Johnnie.

It would be a rare week, indeed, if there were no parties in South Hills — and we imagine that last Tuesday morning was an opportune time for Mrs. Ted Thompson to entertain Mrs. Keith Christensen at a coffee in celebration of her birthday.

Returning to their home in South Hills, after spending ten months in Michigan, were Mr. and Mrs. Keith Christensen, Mike and John. The Christensen's were living in Ann Arbor, where Mr. Christensen received his master's degree in architecture. He will become a member of the faculty at the University of Nebraska this fall.

Fourth of July guests of Maj. and Mrs. William Minor were Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Waddle, and their daughters Jane Ann and Nancy, Junction City, Kan.

We not only learned of picnics on the Fourth of July, but heard that Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Kopcho, and their daughters, Donna Kay and Kathy, entertained Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Gramer, and Johnnie; the Rev. Don Stahl, and Mr. and Mrs. William Minor and Breck, at a picnic supper last Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Anderson, Norfolk, left Wednesday morning, after spending three days as the guests of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Anderson.

Fishing and swimming also highlighted the day's entertainment for the July Fourth holiday. The Rev. and Mrs. Richard Wolff and their children spent the day at Linoma Beach and attended a ball game in the evening, in Omaha.

And fishing at Memphis, Wednesday, were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wood, Adrian Sue, and Mr. and Mrs. William T. Jones, and family.

Don Waren, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Roy Waren, is spending the week with his grandmother, Mrs. Richard Derricott in Kansas City, Mo.

Capt. and Mrs. John Frazer entertained at a barbacue, Saturday evening, for Capt. and Mrs. Sidney Spilseth, and Capt. and Mrs. Frank Puerta, and had as their guests Wednesday evening, Maj. and Mrs. Robert Murvey and Col. and Mrs. Frank Puerta.

A tiara of satin dotted with pearls held her finger-tip veil of illusion, which was edged with a band of scalloped lace, and she carried a white Bible marked with a cluster of red roses.

Following a reception at the church parlors, the couple left for a wedding trip to Colorado. They will make their home at 1801 P St. Mr. Halouska is a student at the University of Nebraska.

MRS. L. J. CORBRIDGE JR.

The chapel of St. Paul Methodist Church in Lincoln was lighted by tall white candles and appointed with pedestal arrangements of white gladioli on Friday morning, June 15, for the marriage of Miss Jean Lapthorne, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. A. W. Lapthorne of Omaha, to Lt. L. J. Corbridge Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Corbridge of Logan, Utah. In the presence of members of the family and a small group of friends, the 11 o'clock service was solemnized by the Rev. Mr. Lapthorne, father of the bride and superintendent of the Omaha District of the Methodist Church.

Miss Barbara Wiles of Weeping Water was the maid of honor and bride's only attendant.

Serving as best man was Lou Wassung of Lincoln, and Robert MacDonald of Sutton seated the guests.

Immediately following the ceremony, a wedding luncheon was held at the Hotel Cornhusker.

Louise Workman Weds

Arrangements of white chrysanthemums and gladioli against a screen of oriental evergreen appointed the chancel of the Peachtree Road Presbyterian Church in Atlanta, Ga., on Tuesday afternoon, June 12 for the marriage of Miss Ann Louise Workman, daughter of Col. and Mrs. James H. Workman, Atlanta, Ga., formerly of Lincoln, to Victor Harold Vroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold H. Vroom, St. Lambert, Montreal, Canada.

Miss Barbara Bohannon, Detroit, Mich., who was the maid of honor and only attendant, wore a waltz-length frock of yellow lace and carried a bouquet of white majestic daisies.

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of white lace and tulle in the ballerina-length. Her veil of illusion was held to her head with a white lace cap encrusted with pearl beads and sequins.

Mrs. Vroom is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi Sorority and Phi Beta Kappa honorary. She will continue with her studies at the University of Michigan. Mr. Vroom is a graduate of Magill University and has been doing graduate study at the University of Michigan.

Wesleyan Coed, Bride

MRS. WENDELL SMITH

Lighted pink candles in seven branched candelabra and arrangements of pink and white gladioli appointed the chancel of the First Methodist Church in Ord on Sunday afternoon, June 17, for the wedding of Miss Rogene Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilber Rogers, Ord, and Wendell Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Smith, Arnold. The Rev. Keith Shepard solemnized the 3:30 o'clock ceremony and Miss Beth Finecy of Alliance, the vocal soloist, was accompanied by Jess Williams, uncle of the bride who also played the wedding music.

Miss Beth Finecy, the maid of honor, and the bridesmaids Miss Lynell Gerbeling, Mrs. Lyle Norland, Burwell; Miss Katherine Newhouse, Chambers; and Mrs. Carson Rogers, wore identically styled frocks of white lace and tulle over taffeta. The extremely full skirts were ballerina-length and large picture hats of pleated tulle with pink streamers completed their costumes. Each caried a cluster of pink, sweetheart roses on a fan of pink lace. Roxann Rogers was her aunt's flower girl.

Gerald Steel of Arnold served as best man and the guests were seated by Carson Rogers, brother of the bride; Lyle Norland, Burwell; Keith Struckman, Ft. Collins, Colo., and Richard Sinclair.

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of pale pink Schiffli embroidered tulle. The snugly fitted bodice was fashioned with a low portrait neckline and the brief capped sleeves were complemented with elbow-length mitts. Tiers of ruffled tulle accented the back of the exceedingly bouffant skirt which was fashioned with a brief chapel train. A shell hat of lace, dotted with pearls, held in place her imported silk illusion veil, and she carried a cascade arrangement of pink roses and stephanotis.

Following a reception at the home of the bride's parents, the couple left for a honeymoon trip to Colorado, and upon their return they will make their home at 4815 C St., Lincoln. Iowa Youth, 20, Is Sought For Kidnaping 17-Year-Old Sweetheart

. . . Illinois Cops Join Search

CAMBRIDGE, Ill. (INS)—A kidnaping warrant was sworn out Thursday night for a 20-year-old Davenport, Ia., youth who earlier abducted his 17-year-old sweetheart following a quarrel in her home at Green Rock, Ill.

Wanted by Illinois and Iowa police was Thomas Bellows who was believed to have kidnaped Mellie Joyce Spencer from her home shortly before noon.

The warrant was sworn out before Henry County Attorney William Kirman by the missing girl's father, Marshall Spencer who with his wife were away from home at the time.

Henry County authorities said the girl's younger sister, Doris, admitted Bellows to her home when he said he wanted to talk with Mellie. During the conversation, a quarrell arose, and Bellows told Doris not to leave the house, threatening to handcuff her to the furniture.

Slipped Away

The younger girl told authorities her sister refused to leave the house with Bellows. During the quarrel, Doris managed to slip away and inform neighbors.

When the neighbors arrived at the Spencer house, however, Bellows and Mellie had vanished.

Police described Bellows as five-foot, ten-inches tall, about 150 pounds and having hazel eyes and brown curly hair. He was driving a 1950 blue sedan with an Iowa license number, 825535.

The missing girl was described as about five foot, seven-inches tall and weighing about 150 pounds.

City May Budget Development For Rogers Tract Area

With city budget time coming up, Mayor Clark Jeary is thinking of possible development of the Rogers Tract at 33rd and O.

The north end of the tract, he said, could be developed without any violence to any possible use on the south end as a medical center site.

It was believed possible that plans for a medical center at 33rd and O may again by submitted to the voters at some later date. A $4.8 million bond issue for such a center was defeated at the June special election.

The city placed $10,000 in the 1955-56 budget for planning and building at 33rd and O. Planning is being done by Clark & Enerson Architects, at a cost to the city of $7,500.

The mayor said he was not prepared to say whether the Council would place funds for another city swimming pool in this year's budget. Budget talks by the Council were scheduled to get under way late in July.

Boy Hurt Badly In Fall From Tree

Lincoln Star Special

CRETE, Neb. — A 14-year-old boy, Richard Menne of Wilber, Neb., was reported in critical condition at the Crete Hospital Thursday night after reportedly falling from a tree at the Crete Boys Scout Camp early Thursday evening.

Young Menne, son of Donald R. Menne of Wilber, was with his parents visiting his sister who was attending a Girl's Scout encampment at the Crete camp.

The boy apparently landed on his head, according to the information which Saline County Sheriff John Tesar had received Thursday.

Two doctors, one from Wilber and one from Crete, were called and the Crete rescue squad appeared at the scene, according to Tesar. A specialist was called from Lincoln to treat the boy at the Crete Hospital.

Delinquency Study Urges Increased Aid To Schools

WASHINGTON (INS) — Senate investigators of juvenile delinquency urged increased federal aid to schools Thursday to strengthen what they called "our first line of defense" against the waywardness of youth.

A subcommittee headed by Sen Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn), said in an interim report that "unless we pay out the money for better school facilities today, we shall have to pay out the money in the years to come for more police and more prisons."

It urged "serious consideration" for these proposals:

1. Higher school salaries to prevent the loss of teachers to other occupations and to attract good young teachers.

2. Steps to attract more men into the teaching field.

3. More aid to teachers to relieve teaching tasks.

4. Providing more specialists to help the teacher — such as social workers, visiting instructors, psychiatrists and psychologists.

5. A study to determine whether larger schools "destroy the value which may be inherent in small schools which have more opportunity for personal contact between students and faculty."

Bowl Impresses Noted Park Man

Park Expert Likes Lincoln's System, But Warns Of Dangers

By BILL DOBLER
Star Staff Writer

Lincoln's parks favorably impressed a nationally known parks and recreation official who warned of dangers to be avoided if such attractions are to be retained.

George Hjelte, general manager of park and recreation for Los Angeles, Calif., praised Lincoln's park system after touring it with Park Superintendent James Ager.

Among the things Hjelte said impressed him most was the amenity between Lincoln's park, recreation and school officials. The good will and co-operative spirit shown by these men, he said, is evident in the program the city offers.

He particularly praised Pinewood Bowl in Pioneers Park which he said was as good "as some concrete structure which might have cost millions of dollars."

Housekeeping in the city's parks is good, Hjelte said, and things are kept in good order.

Streets Invading

To save this program, he warned, the city must guard against "infringement" upon the parks for other purposes. One of the most damaging demands being made on parks and recreation areas today, he said, is use of the land for major streets or freeways.

This is an attractive use of the parks, he said, because it offers a right-of-way without cost.

He urged that if parks are to continue to meet the demands of a growing community, they must be added to in size.

Greater leisure time among all classes of people, he said, has increased the demand for park and recreational facilities. Park lands should be acquired, he said, far beyond the needs of today.

Noting the importance of a balanced park and recreation system in connection with physical fitness, Hjelte said that only one-half of the nation's high school children take part in any type of recreational activity. Less than one-half of the elementary students have any such physical fitness program, he said.

Young People Hurt

Some 30 per cent of the young people called for induction into the service during World War II, he said, were declared physically unfit to serve.

To meet the challenge of such conditions, Hjelte called for a greater awareness among city officials for a good physical fitness program. He cited the need also for higher salaries in that field to attract more trained personnel.

The public, he said, must also be informed of the need for the nation's physical fitness.

The national known Los Angeles official was one of the participants in the recent President's Conference on Physical Fitness. He made three public appearances in Lincoln, coming here under the auspices of the Athletic Institute of Chicago, a non-profit organization for the promotion of physical fitness.

In his noon address at the Student Union, he spoke to representatives of various city organizations, the schools and city government.

Democrat Strikes Roosevelt Blasts From The Record

WASHINGTON (INS) — A southern Democrat who bitterly assailed the Roosevelt family on the floor of the House Tuesday has had his remarks stricken from the Congressional Record.

Rep. Mendel Rivers (D-SC), said Thursday he withdrew his accusations against the late President and Mrs. Roosevelt because he and Rep. James Roosevelt (D-Calif), "decided we didn't want to be mad at each other."

Roosevelt explained, however, that Rivers called him and asked whether he would like to have his remarks withdrawn.

He said he told Rivers that he had in no sense asked the South Carolinian to do so.

Roosevelt, oldest son of the late President, was livid with rage when Rivers told the House during a bitter civil rights debate Tuesday that "no family has done more to hurt my people than the family from which he comes."

The southerner, referring to his California collegaue as "brother Roosevelt," took the floor shortly after the former President's son had demanded that federal funds be withheld from segregated schools.

Rivers, taking a sharp jab at Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt's syndicated newspaper column, said "Every day we see articles by a member of his family hurting our people."

Escaped Con Dies In Duel With Guard

MONTICELLO, Fla. (AP) — An escaped prisoner was shot to death and a prison guard wounded in a gun duel Thursday night.

The guard, Dan Morris of Bountstown, Fla., underwent emergency surgery at a Tallahassee hospital.

The Florida highway patrol said the prisoner, Leannie William Chess, apparently barricaded himself in a building and shot it out with guards. There was no immediate word on how the man obtained his weapon.

He escaped from a state work gang Thursday afternoon.

FCC Grants TV Channel 12 To University

The Federal Communications Commission Thursday approved the license change of KUON-TV in Lincoln at the assignment of a Channel 12 construction permit to the University of Nebraska. No money was involved.

The University had applied to change the licensee of Channel 12 from Byron Dunn to the University of Nebraska.

Dunn had temporarily held the license as a trustee for the University Board of Regents with the University handling all the programs. The Regents wanted to be sure the University could operate the station successfully for educational television.

Jack McBride, manager of KUON-TV, said the educational program has worked out very well, so the trusteeship is being abolished.

The next step, he said, will be tests of engineering and programs toward getting an educational license.

Channel 12 is presently listed as a commercial channel because it was formerly the KOLN-TV channel. The University has on file with the FCC a request for the changing of Channel 12 to an educational station.

Council Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate passed by voice vote a bill to establish a Federal Advisory Council on the Arts.

The measure, which now goes to the House, would authorize the President to appoint a 24-member council of private citizens to recommend "ways of maintaining and increasing the cultural resources" of the country.

Twenty-one of the members would be drawn from the fields of music, drama, dance, literature, architecture and allied arts.

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) —E. O. Betts, director of public works, told irate residents that workmen following resurfacing crews on the city streets were not really tearing up all that nice work. Crews which appeared to be tearing up the paving as fast as the workers put it down are really reducing bumps, Betts said.

Here's How To Work It

A X Y D L B A A X R

Giant-Killing Cubs Knock Braves Out Of First, 7-1

MILWAUKEE (P — The sixth-place Chicago Cubs exploded for five runs in the seventh inning Tuesday night to defeat the Milwaukee Braves 7-1, and shove the Braves out of first place in the National League

The defeat toppled the Braves into second place where they were 3 percentage points behind the Cincinnati Redlegs and 3 points ahead of the third - place Brooklyn Dodgers

The Cubs snapped to life after two were out in the seventh The outburst was started by Eddie Miksis who smacked his eighth homer of the year into the left field bleachers Before the inning was over 10 Cubs had tripped to the plate and socked six consecutive hits.

Besides Miksis' homer, other big blows in the inning were doubles by Don Hoak and Dee Fondy that produced one run each and a single by Gene Baker that sent two runs home.

The Braves were held to four hits by Vito Valentinetti and Jim Brosnan. The victory, his second against two defeats, went to Brosnan who worked 4 1-3 innings allowing only one hit.

Valentinetti, in his first major league start, held the Braves to one run in 4 2-3 innings The score, in the fifth, came without a Milwaukee hit. It also sent Valentinetti out of the game with a pulled ligament in his right knee.

Wes Covington had reached first on Fondy's error and after two were out Valentinetti threw a wild pitch and Covington broke for the plate. In attempting to cover home Valentinetti twisted his leg. Vito also had two hits, the first of his major league career He went into the game with a 5-1 record picked up in relief.

Sports Editor, The Star

Friday night at 7:45 Lincoln will pay its respects to a young man from California, who by chance was sent to the Nebraska capital city during the hectic days of spring training at the Pittsburgh farm camp near Huntsville, Tex.

In the weeks since the Western League opened, this fellow swung his bat with force unparalleled in league history. He started slowly, gained momentum and then began hitting home runs with a regularity that defied imagination.

The inevitable, as far as he was concerned, has happened. So Lincoln fans tonight will salute Dick Stuart—the greatest home run hitter in modern league history.

Stuart's real reward for his 1956 performance will come next spring when he goes to spring training with the Pirates. He has earned a chance with the Big Bucs with a stunning performance.

But Chief fans, who have faithfully backed their club in so many lean years, tonight will offer him a home-town salute.

Branch Rickey Sr., calls Stuart "an eccentric fellow." And without question, he's a cocky, self-confident guy who thinks he has no equal when it comes to swinging the timber.

This "eccentricity" certainly has paid off in the form of personal glory and a home run record. But make no mistake. Stuart has done more than achieve a personal goal.

He has helped the Lincoln Chiefs immeasurably with his bat.

Dick's 45 home runs came in 33 games. In 24 of those games the Chiefs were victorious. His homers weren't always solely responsible for the wins, but they contributed to them.

With his 45th home run, he drove in his 107th run. Many of his RBIs came in games when he didn't hit home runs and helped Lincoln post a 49-27 record through the Fourth of July.

During the remainder of the season, Stuart will re-write the record books every time he hits a home run, and he'll close in on such marks as RBIs, total bases, slugging percentage and others.

And each time he homers, singles or triples he'll be helping Larry Shepard's crew, undoubtedly the finest team in Lincoln's history.

While Dick Stuart has been the sparkplug of the Chiefs, there are others who have been doing a tremendous job, too.

When one fellow has such an outstanding year, some of the others are neglected in the headlines. But they keep plugging at their job and contribute to the team's benefit.

Manager Larry Shepard has done a terrific job juggling his personnel, keeping them keyed up and fighting to the last out. His relief pitching has been an important factor, also.

Then there's Kenny Toothman, the peppery second baseman, First-Sacker Bill Jackson, Johnny McDevitt, who filled in at third when Sam Miley got hurt and has done a fine job, as well as all the others.

But one fellow in particular deserves an extra pat on the back—Pitcher Myron Hoffman.

Hoffman came to Lincoln after the start of the season and was put on bull-pen duty. He was roughly treated in most of his appearances, getting hit with regularity. He managed to pick up a couple of wins, but he was far from impressive.

When Dewey Williams came up with a sore arm, Shepard had to have a starting pitcher to fill in the gap. He chose Hoffman.

Myron responded in dead-earnest fashion, winning both of his starting assignments and looking exceptionally good in doing so. Lincoln went into Thursday's game with a 7-1 record in the second half, and Hoffman had contributed two wins.

That's coming through under pressure in anyone's book. And that's what all of the Chiefs have been doing—coming through when it counts most.

DANIELS WINS 8TH; CHIEFS SLAP HAWKS

. . . Dick Stuart Honored Tonight

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

Bennie Daniels, Kenny Toothman and Don Williams were the heroes Thursday night as the Lincoln Chiefs continued to slap the Topeka Hawks, winning 5-3 at Sherman Field before 1,640 pleased fans

Big Ben kept his 1956 record in perfect shape as he posted win No. 8, although he needed help from Williams. And he teamed up with Toothman to supply the Chiefs' plate punch

Pitcher Daniels and Second Baseman Toothman accounted for seven of the Chiefs' eight hits off Topeka ace Glenn Thompson. Tootie had a perfect night, getting four singles in four trips, while Ben hit a single, a double and a triple in four tries.

Williams filled his usual role—top-notch relief pitcher — in fine fashion.

When Daniels weakened in the ninth, yielding singles to the first two Hawks up, Manager Larry Shepard called on Don He fanned Lee Bohlender and then forced Buddy Hall to hit into a game-ending double play—Lincoln's third of the night.

Thursday's win was Lincoln's fifth straight and pushed the Chiefs two-and-a-half games in front of Pueblo and Amarillo in the second half standings The Chiefs have an 8-1 mark in the second half.

Friday night will be Dick Stuart Nite, with festivities honoring the new home-run king slated to start at 7 45 The big slugger will be presented numerous gifts from the fans.

Don Rowe (9-4) will do the pitching against the Hawks. Topeka Manager Buddy Bates is undecided between Jim McDaniel — the outfielder who has an 0-1 record—and Stew Alton (4-1).

Lincoln exploded for four runs in the fourth inning Thursday night to sew up the contest.

Thompson, who went into the game with a 4-0 record, had allowed only two hits up to that point. Toothman opened the barrage with his second single and a pair of walks loaded the sacks.

Reggie Grenald's sacrifice fly scored Toothman before singles by Howie Goss and Daniels drove in three more tallies.

The Chiefs added an insurance run in the fifth on a walk, Toothman's third single and two infield outs.

Daniels lost his bid for a shutout in the eighth when the Hawks jumped on him for all three of their runs. Sammy Taylor tripled and scored on Al Weygandt's single before Mike Jezierski whipped a ball against the left field scoreboard for a ground-rule home run.

Smoke Signals .... Sam Miley returned to third-base duty Thursday night. His injured leg still isn't healed, but Johnny McDevitt had to return to his home because of the death of his mother-in-law and Miley had to step into the gap Sammy went hitless, but he got five assists and launched the game-ending twin killing Stuart didn't get a hit either, but he gave the fans a thrill when he robbed Weygandt of an extra base hit as he leaped high against the wall to pull in a fly in the sixth ... Daniels fanned 11 And it was Pitcher's Nite at the plate Bennie hit three-for four and Thompson, a big fellow with a lot of good stuff, hit two for four

Straight Hitters Favored During State Golf Meet

The straight hitters will be the best bets in the Men's State Amateur Golf Tournament next week at Lincoln Country Club.

That is the opinion of LCC Pro Bud Williamson, who'll run Nebraska's biggest amateur golf show.

"The course is in good shape, but it will be tough. The greens are very good but recent rains have left the rough tough—and we're going to leave it that way," Williamson said.

The 72 holes of medal play will begin Wednesday, July 11, with 18 holes.. There will be another 18-hole round Thursday and 36 holes Friday.

Practice rounds are to be Monday, July 9, with a pro-am event scheduled Tuesday. Only participants in the tournament are eligible for the pro-am.

Bob Astleford of Omaha is the defending state champion.

Home Run King, Tells Own Story

I'm Shooting For All-Time Mark Now Says Chiefs' Stuart

By DICK STUART
Western League Home Run Record-Holder

(Editor's Note: Dick Stuart, Lincoln outfielder who hit his 45th home run on July 4th to smash the Western League record, was a visitor in The Star Sports Department Thursday. The following is his story.)

I've tried very hard all year to accomplish the feat that I did Wednesday night at Topeka.

Believe me, it was quite a thrill. It's something that I'll never forget.

My next step is breaking the all-time Western League record (49), which shouldn't take too long.

And after that I might as well shoot for the moon—the all-time minor league record. I'll keep my fingers crossed and hope the Good Lord is on my side.

I hope all that I've done will earn me a chance that every ball player wants—to play in the big leagues This is what I've worked so hard for.

If I can improve on my fielding, and correct some flaws in my batting, I believe I stand a good chance to make the majors. Defensively, I think I have improved over my previous years, but I still have a great deal of work to do in this department before being of major-league caliber.

I hope that my hitting will carry me to the big leagues. And if I ever do play up there, I will be there to stay.

I've enjoyed every minute of this success in Lincoln and I hope to enjoy it for the rest of the year.

I'm looking forward to the arrival of my family (wife Diane and daughter Debbie), who will visit here for a short while, and I hope I can impress my wife with a few home runs.

I also hope that with the powerful team we have we'll win the pennant—both of them—and naturally the prize money. This would be a great thrill because I've never played on a pennant-winner.

Playing with the Lincoln Chiefs has helped me in my efforts toward a new record because everybody in the lineup is a very good hitter. This relieves the pressure from me. It also means that the opposition won't walk me as often with good hitters following me in the lineup.

I want to say to the Lincoln fans that I appreciate very much this night (Dick Stuart Night on Friday) they are giving me. This will be the first time I've ever had a 'night' and I am looking forward to it.

Back to my hitting, if I could ever overcome my great weakness of striking out, I believe my trip to Pittsburgh would be hastened I had a talk with Branch Rickey in Albuquerque and I was greatly impressed by his interest in me.

I know I lead the league in strikeouts, as well as home runs, but the way I feel is that an out is an out no matter if I ground out or strikeout.

Larry Shepard, my manager, has given me quite a few helpful hints on watching the ball when I have two strikes on me. He's helped me to watch the ball instead of still swinging for the home run.

The pitching in the Western League has shown me that pitching in the higher leagues is much better than that in Class C, which I was in last year. Finer control, with a number of different pitches, makes it much harder to hit.

My improvement in hitting the fast ball has been the main reason for my home runs this year. I'm pulling fast balls now. This is something I never used to do, but it's something I hope to continue doing in the future because it will account for more home runs.

In the past I usually hit a fast ball for an easy out to the centerfielder, but learning to pull the ball has helped a great deal.

Ted Williams is my favorite portrait of a great hitter, swinging with power as well as for average. I know that Williams is a left-handed hitter, but I try to use his theories as a pattern for myself.

If I could only become half the hitter that he is, I would be well-satisfied. Also, I would be well-satisfied to be making half his salary.

Although I am deeply interested in breaking the all-time home run record, my main interest is to play on a pennant-winner for Lincoln this year.

And I think with the tremendous club we have, there is nobody else in the league that stands a chance.

Yank Slugger To Wear Brace On Injured Knee

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—An X-ray examination of Mickey Mantle's injured right knee Thursday night revealed some sprained ligaments and the New York Yankee team physician said the young slugger may be able to play again "in two or three days—although perhaps only as a pinch-hitter."

There was no indication whether Mantle will be in the starting lineup for Tuesday's All-Star game at Washington His availability for the annual classic will hinge on how the knee, to be supported by a brace, reacts during the Yankees' series with the Senators at Washington this weekend

Dr. Sydney P Gaynor said the X-rays showed that none of the ligaments had been torn loose from the bone and that there was no damage to the bone itself Mantle, hot on the trail of Babe Ruth's record 60-home run total, injured the knee of the final play of the first game in Wednesday's doubleheader at Boston.

The 24-year-old switch-hitter, who has 29 home runs, sat out the second game of the July 4 twin-bill and Thursday's game at Boston. He arrived in New York by train for the hospital examination shortly after the supper hour

Mantle, who appeared glum at the hospital before leaving for his home in nearby River Edge, N. J., is due to return to the hospital to pick up the brace around noon today.

Dr Gaynor's official diagnosis of the injury reported it as "a sprain of the ligaments of the outer aspect of the right knee"

That's just below, and slightly to the rear of the knee.

The team physician added that a check of the knee ligaments showed them to be "tighter" than they were when Mick injured his knee last spring. Dr. Gaynor said the "general tone" of the knee was improved over last spring.

Able To Walk

Mantle, who was able to walk on the knee Thursday night without support from a crutch or cane, said, "I'll throw that brace away as soon as I can."

He has been hobbled by several knee and leg injuries in the past and has worn braces before, one on either side of the knee. "I couldn't pivot with those at all," he said, "but the doctor says I'll be able to pivot with this new one. But I won't be able to tell until I try it on."

Mantle hopes to leave today, after the fitting, to rejoin the Yankees in Washington

Manager Casey Stengel, also manager of the American League All-Stars, said he couldn't tell whether Mantle will be able to make the starting lineup in Tuesday's classic, until he sees what Mantle can do in the Senator series

With 29 home runs to his credit in the Yankees' 74 games, Mickey is five games ahead of Ruth's 1927 pace If he doesn't play through All-Star game time, he will start the second half of the season exactly even with the Babe, who hit 17 home runs in September

The injury is the third suffered by the Oklahoma kid who once said of himself: "I got legs of an old man"

His first injury occurred in the 1952 World Series when he wrenched his left knee chasing a fly ball

ThomsonHot In British Open Meet

HOYLAKE, England (AP) — Defending champion Peter Thomson of Australia strung together three successive birdies under pressure Thursday to grab the halfway lead in the British Open Golf Championship and to make a strong bid for golfing immortality.

Thomson, shooting his second 70 over the rugged Hoylake course on a day that was hardly fit for golf or humans, carded 140 for 36 holes He finished one stroke ahead of a pair of larruping Latins from Argentina, Enrique Bertolino and Roberto de Vicenzo.

These three golfing dreadnaughts steamed almost out of sight of the rest of the field America's chief hopes, Mike Souchak and Frank Stranahan, floundered in their wake with 148 each.

The tiny American delegation was cut in half as veteran Gene Sarazen withdrew after shooting a respectable 74 Thursday to qualify for the final 36 holes today and Pete Burke failed to make the grade Sarazen, with a 152, decided to forego the rest of the tournament and return home to attend the funeral of a close friend killed in the Grand Canyon plane disaster

If he can stay in front through the final 36 holes today, with the field reduced to the 48 low scorers, Thomson will become the first player of modern times to win the British Open three years in succession There have been many three-time winners, including two who played this year, but the last to win three in a row was Bob Ferguson in 1880-81-82

Off his play so far, Thomson could do it. His round of 70 Thursday was one of two under Hoylake's difficult 35-36—71 par on this miserable day. And he escaped the worst of the windy, rainy weather that buffeted the early starters. Thomson was leader at 36 holes in the U S Open last month but finished fourth.

The weather was so bad early this morning that there even was talk of calling off the whole round —something almost unheard of—in British golf.

Klaus Out On Double Play

Billy Klaus Red Sox third baseman, is forced out at second base on the first half of a double play during the first inning of their game with the Yankees Thursday. Ted Williams grounded to Bill Skowron at first who threw to Gil McDougald at second to get Klaus. McDougald then relayed back to Skowron in time to get Williams at first Umpire Frank Tobachi called the play. (AP Wirephoto)

Yanks' McDougald Goes On Batting Spree; Tips Bosox

BOSTON (AP) — Gil McDougald bolstered southpaw Whitey Ford's seven-hit pitching with a home run, a double and a single Thursday for a 6-1 New York Yankee victory over Boston at rain-drenched Fenway Park.

The contest was the first half of a scheduled day-night double-header and was played in a steady drizzle.

The second game was postponed and will be played as a night game Sept 5.

While MsDougald drove in four runs, Ford tamed the Red Sox for the third time in a row this season all complete games. The triumph was his 10th of the season against four setbacks.

Despite the slippery footing, the crafty Yankee lefthander got the fielding support when he needed it.

Jackie Jensen singled and advanced on a wild pitch in the fourth-inning for Boston, but Gerry Coleman's brilliant diving stop of Jim Piersall's smash on the edge of the grass and his quick throw killed the Red Sox opportunity.

McDougald's three-run blast in the third got the Yanks off and running After Ford singled and Billy Martin beat out a bunt as loser Bob Porterfield slipped coming off the mound, Gil lined a 3-2 pitch into the left-field screen.

The Yankees added another three-run spree in the fourth off Porterfield and reliefer Tommy Hurd. Four hits and three walks did the job McDougald and Andy Carey singled for two runs and Ford walked to force in another

Aussie Hoad Snuffs Out America's Tennis Hopes

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Lewis Hoad of Australia snuffed out America's flickering hopes for another Wimbledon men's tennis title Thursday in the semifinals with a perfectly paced, almost casual victory over Hamilton Richardson.

The blond Australian dropped the first set while he probed Richardson's defense and while he tested the offense Then he ran out the match, almost calling his own shots, 3 6, 6-4, 6 2, 6-4.

Hoad meets Ken Rosewall today in an All-Australian final for the top title in tennis Rosewall defeated Vic Seixas of Philadelphia Wednesday. The championship round will be the seventh without an American since the final big year of William T. Tilden in 1930.

The Americanless championship emphasizes, as nothing else has, the failing quality of players from the big nation which dominated the game for nearly 40 years.

Davis Cup Team Captain Bill Talbert, in London to try and piece together an American team, said sadly, "I came over hopeful but I'm afraid I'm going back much less so. There is little encouraging here"

Shirley Fry, 29-year-old Akron, O, veteran who now lives in St Petersburg, Fla., dropped one of the all-time queens of the center court out of the semifinals.

She defeated defending champion Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., 6-4, 4-6, 6-3 and Saturday meets Angela Buxton of Britain.

The entry of Miss Buxton into the finals is another case of slipping American prestige. She is the first British girl since 1939 to reach the last round. When she meets Miss Fry Saturday, that will be the first ladies championship round without two Americans since the same year.

From the fast-rising quality of British women players and the almost total absence of new, young Americans, it is doubtful that two Americans will get into the finals at the same time again for years to come.

Pontiac Sets World 24 Hour Endurance Record!
AVERAGES 118.37 MILES PER HOUR FOR 2,841 MILES!

Says famed driver, Ab Jenkins: "I was confident from the beginning we'd break all records. Pontiac is the easiest-handling car I've ever driven and it's tops for safety and performance!"

First 100 miles was run at average speed of 126 02 M P.H. During the day, temperatures on the blistering flats rose to 130°. Only one quart of oil was added during the run.
A 1956 Pontiac traveled 24 hours at the amazing average speed of 118.375 miles per hour to break every known existing stock-car record for speed, endurance and safety!
Pontiac—with its blazing "go" of Strato-Streak power —was driven around the clock June 26 under NASCAR supervision by 73-year-old Ab Jenkins, world-famed race driver and safety expert, at the Bonneville Salt Flats. On its first try, this single-entry Pontiac covered 2,841 miles in the 24-hour period, topping all previous official stock-car marks!
And for even further proof that Pontiac's Strato-Streak V-8 is America's most modern and efficient power plant, remember this—Pontiac delivered more miles per gallon than any other "eight" in any class in the 1956 Mobilgas Economy Run!
Get the greatest and get it now while your present car is worth its top price in trade!

Tigers Explode; Finally Win In Briggs Stadium

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers erupted for 11 runs in the first three innings Thursday and hung on for a 13-7 triumph over the Cleveland Indians, ending a winless Briggs Stadium streak that extended through 15 games.

Every man in the Tiger lineup hit safely and righthander Frank Lary, who had neither won nor completed a game since June 1, gave up only five hits although blasted for a pair of home runs that accounted for all of the Cleveland scoring.

Jim Busby smashed a grand-slammer in the first inning following an error, a hit batsman and a walk. It was his seventh of the season. Al Rosen connected for his 12th with two men aboard in the sixth.

The Tigers, whose last victory at home was on June 15, ripped into Bob Lemon for five straight hits and six runs in the second.

Lemon, dropping his sixth game in 16 decisions, gave up a double to Al Kaline and singles to Ray Boone, Frank House, Bill Tuttle and Frank Bolling before Art Houtteman took over. The Tigers reached him for a walk and a two-run double by Charlie Maxwell.

Detroit added five more in the third. Harvey Kuenn drove in three with his seventh home run and Lary scored two with a bases-loaded single. Lary helped himself to his fifth victory against 10 setbacks by scoring three runs.

A double by House and Bolling's single scored one more for Detroit in the fourth and three straight singles off Bob Feller, fourth of five Cleveland hurlers, added the final tally in the seventh.

KNOW YOUR GOLF

By TOMMY ARMOUR

As stated earlier, there's no basic difference between the wood club and iron club swings. Your stance with the irons is a bit more "sitting down" because the iron club shafts are shorter than those of the woods. Your hands, in addressing the irons, are a little ahead of the ball and the ball is nearer the center of your stance. Something else to bear in mind is to have your weight at address stronger on your left foot. All this adds up to having the iron club follow a slightly more upright arc than the wider sweep of the longer-shafted wooden club. Play the long iron shots from a square stance, and open the stance as distance shortens.

Fish Didn't Bite In June

The fishing picture for the last week in June only needed one word to describe it—poor!

That was the concensus from conservation officer reports from all over the state as the weekly fishing reports were made.

Reasons and particular conditions varied. From Officer Leon J. Cunningham of District I comes a report of hot and dry weather and light fishing pressure. Only good fishing reported in the area was Soldier Creek for trout.

Officer William J. Ahern of Ord, District II, reports frequent rains, rivers high and muddy and practically no fishermen. One of the few "fair" fishing reports comes from Officer Don Green of Hartington, District III, who reports drum, carp and catfish biting fairly well in the Gavins Point area below the dam. The best bait was minnows.

Officers Lee Bowers of Benkleman and H. B. Guyer of Lexington, District IV, report fishing generally quite slow, with a few fish being taken from Johnson Lake. Crappie fishing is "fair" at both Midway and Gallager Reservoirs, and some bass and crappie are being taken at Swanson Lake and Enders Lake.

The board of directors of the Loup River Public Power District and the Platte Valley Public Power and Irrigation District, joint owners and operators of NPPS, approved the bond issue

It is part of a $12,000,000 expansion program planned by NPPS during the next three years. Nine million of the total is expected to come from the Rural Electrification in the form of a loan.

NPPS said the $3,000,000 would be used on non-rural projects, including the completion of a high-voltage transmission loop around Lincoln, two new substations at east Lincoln and 2nd St in Lincoln and additions to the substation at the North Platte Hydro-electric plant.

Public bids on the bonds will be opened here July 17.

Stock Mart Shows Rise; Trade Lively

NEW YORK (AP) — A confident stock market carved out further gains Thursday in the heaviest trading since June 8.

With steels and aircrafts in the van, pivotal stocks ran ahead from fractions to around $2 and a few were up nearly $4.

Volume rose to 2,240,000 shares compared with 1,810,000 Tuesday.

The broad advance included secondary stocks as well as the blue chips.

The general public entered the market increasingly as the feeling spread that President Eisenhower would reaffirm his candidacy for re-election.

At the same time, the mediation efforts to settle the 5-day-old steel strike accompanied a conviction that this would not be a walkout of long duration and that, in any event, higher steel prices and another round of inflation would be the inevitable outcome.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced $1.30 to $184.20 for its biggest rise since June 12. The industrial component was up $2.50, the rails 80 cents and the utilities 10 cents.

In the American Stock Exchange prices were higher on volume of 850,000 shares compared with 910,000 Tuesday.

BOND MARKET

NEW YORK (AP)—Selected rails and industrials performed well in a mixed bond market Thursday. Utilities were steady while investment quality issues shaded off. Convertibles were active and generally higher.

U. S. Government bonds had a tendency toward the upside in quiet post-holiday trading. Over-the-counter dealers quoted the 2 1-2s off 1963 up 1-32 at 97 4-32 bid. The victory 2½s of December, 1972-67; the 30-year 3¼s and the 40-year 3s were unchanged each at 94 26-32, 104 20-32 and 99 26-32 bid, respectively.

Corporate trading volume increased to $3,000,000 par value on the big board from $3,000,000 Tuesday.

Flour Business Up; Spurs Wheat Rise

CHICAGO (AP)—More flour business spurred an advance in wheat on the board of trade Thursday. Rye moved up with wheat, although at a smaller pace.

Buying in these two cereals reached its heaviest proportions late in the day. Wheat gained around two cents in the closing 15 minutes. Rye wiped out losses during this late upsurge.

Corn and new crop soybeans sold off early and never were able to get back these early losses. July soybeans, however, rallied from an early slump. Oats held steady all day.

Wheat closed ⅝-2¼ higher, corn ½-1¾ lower, oats ⅛-¼ higher, rye ½-1¾ higher, soybeans 2¼ lower to 1½ higher and lard 25 to 38 cents a hundred pounds higher.

HolidayToll 253 Deaths
. . . 137 In Traffic

By The Associated Press

The nation's one-day observance of Fourth of July brought violent death to 253 persons—137 of them in traffic accidents.

A final tabulation Thursday showed 77 persons drowned and 39 met deah from miscellaneous causes.

There was one fireworks death, in Wyoming. This matched the single fireworks death of 1955.

The traffic toll, which has been on the increase for 15 consecutive months, was higher than forecast.

The toll set a postwar high for a one-day Independence Day observance. There were 105 traffic deaths in 1951, the only other one-day celebration since World War II.

The casualty list also was much longer than on the recent one-day Memorial Day holiday.

A nonholiday survey made by The Associated Press recently for comparative purposes showed 66 traffic deaths, 21 drownings and 21 deaths from miscellaneous causes.

Burglars Enter Three Murdock Business Firms

MURDOCK, Neb. — Three Murdock, business firms were burglarized this week, according to Cass County Sheriff Tom Solomon.

A safe at the Farmers Co-op Elevator was punched, but intruders found nothing inside. Only a carton of cigarettes were taken.

Welding gauges and some hose were taken from the Rose Motors Company and two electric mixers and three pocket watches were reported missing from Bornemier Hardware after the break-ins.

Intruders were apparently thwarted in a break-in attempt of the Schliefert Electric Shop.

Solomon also reported a July 4 break-in of the Ed Bender farm home about 1½ miles north of Eagle. Taken were a camera, radio, three watches, two cigarette lighers, and a two pound lamb roast.

Twining Far From Dismayed
U.S. Has 'Better Air Force' Than Russians

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Gen. Nathan F. Twining reported Thursday Russia probably has more jet aircraft than the United States but "there is no question" that this country has the better air force.

Fresh from a visit to Moscow, the Air Force chief of staff gave this appraisal to newsmen after reporting on his trip to President Eisenhower and top Pentagon brass gathered here.

Twining was guarded in his talk with reporters and his blood pressure seemed to rise a bit under their persistent questioning. But he made these contributions to the debate raging over comparative U.S. and Soviet air strength:

U. S. In Front

1. There is no question, as far as he can see, about this country's remaining in front in the airpower race in the next few years. Qualitatively, it is in front now.

2. Nevertheless, Russia might surpass the United States in military aviation by 1960 if, as Twining put it, this country goes to sleep and does not keep moving.

3. The Russians "probably are ahead of us in jet aircraft—numberwise."

"About The Same"

4. He still thinks, as he did when he testified before congressional committees last month, that the two nations are "about the same" in the over-all number of military aircraft, counting Navy, Coast Guard and Marine planes, as well as the Air Force.

5. On Air Force development, he believes "the programs the Air Force has recommended are satisfactory, at this time."

Thus Twining stood generally with the administration on Air Force policy and against a powerful group of senators who contend the United States is losing ground to the Soviet Union in the struggle for world air supremacy.

The news conference was held in the press room for the temporary White House in the Gettysburg Hotel. Occasionally Twining held whispered consultations with presidential press Secretary James C. Hagerty or other officials. He also sometimes consulted written notes.

Highway 4 Re-Routed In Falls City Vicinity

FALLS CITY, Neb. (AP) — State Highway 4 has been re-routed between Falls City and U. S. Highway 75 to take it through Salem, L. W. Fish, Auburn, resident engineer of the State Highway Department, said.

Record Soybean, Second Largest Corn Crop Seen

CHICAGO (AP)—A forecast for the largest soybean crop and the second largest corn crop on record was made Thursday by C. M. Galvin, crop expert associated with Francis du Pont & Co.

Galvin tentatively estimated the corn crop at 3,337,443,000 bushels compared with last year's production of 3,184,836,000. Largest crop on record was 3,605,000,000 bushels in 1948.

The moisture situation is generally good east of the Mississippi River but well below normal in the western Corn Belt states, Galvin said.

"Over the latter area," he added, "generous and timely rains will be essential to maintain the present favorable plant condition."

The crop expert estimated the soybean crop at 429,312,000 bushels, which would compare with last year's record of 371,276,000.

Pavillion Blaze Blamed On Arson

NORTH PLATTE, Neb. (AP)—A fire which destroyed Jeffers Pavillion last Saturday was caused by arson, Deputy Fire Marshal V. W. Germain, one of the investigators, said.

Fire Chief Les Mills said investigation into the fire, which caused a loss of $40,000, would continue. He declined comment on factors leading to the conclusion the blaze had been set.

Mills said insurance in the amount of $17,000 was carried on the building by the owner, the Union Pacific Employes Athletic Club.

State's Slaughter Mark Rises 2 Pct.

The State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics reported Thursday commercial slaughter of livestock in Nebraska during May totaled 231,031,000 pounds live weight, two per cent more than in April but two per cent less than in May, 1955.

Cattle, sheep and lamb slaughter was down, but hog slaughter increased.

Ground Is Broken For Page Church

Lincoln Star Special

PAGE, Neb. — Ground breaking ceremonies for the addition to the Methodist Church at Page were attended by about 100 persons.

The Rev. Lisle Mewmaw, pastor of the church, opened the service and introduced speakers. Ivan Heiss, chairman of the building committee, spoke concerning the nature of the project.

Joseph Carlson of Laurel, the architect, presented Gerald Mock of O'Neill, the contractor, with the contract for the proposed addition, which is to be 24 by 50 feet, added to the north side of the present building. There will be a full basement, and it will be finished with a brick exterior finish.

Mrs. Lou Heiss, a charter member of the church, turned the first sod, and Mrs. John Gray the second spade of sod. Mrs. Gray also gave a brief history of the Page church.

The Rev. Lester Hart of Tilden delivered the main address.

A check for $5,000 offered to the church, provided a like sum could be matched by a given date, started the machinery in motion for the new addition. The donor remains anonymous.

U.S. Orders Warehouses To Freeze Steel Supplies

. . . So Defense Needs Can Be Met

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government Thursday night froze warehouse supplies of steel products needed for defense production.

The freeze order, issued because of the steel strike, is effective until further notice. It is designed primarily to make sure that nondefense customers shall not obtain steel needed for aircraft and guided missiles and for Atomic Energy Commission projects.

Issued by the Commerce Department under the Defense Production Act, the order provides customers may not accept delivery of specified products unless the shipments were in transit before midnight Thursday.

The Commerce Department said about 1,250 recognized steel warehouses in the United States, its territories and island possessions are affected by the freeze.

Exemptions were made on certain types of steel to assure small business of getting supplies and to make sure steel products are available for maintenance and repair of industrial plants.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The director of the Federal Mediation Service Thursday met with the striking United Steelworkers and three representatives of the basic steel industry to discuss contract differences in the five-day nationwide steel strike and said "we will be in touch with the parties early next week after studying the information."

Director Joseph F. Finnegan said he is hopeful that the union and companies can arrange their own negotiations, but added "I've had no indications to that effect."

Decker said the unit is designed to help high school teachers provide their students with worthwhile teachings in conservation. It also is for use by college instructors engaged in the preparation of teachers.

Dollar Dips

MONTREAL (AP) — The U.S. dollar dipped to its lowest level in 16 months on the Canadian market.

At the close of trading it was quoted at a discount of 2 1-16 per cent or at 97 15-16 Canadian cents. The previous low of 98 cents was reached in March 1955.

Traders attributed the decline to increased demand for Canadian dollars as a result of some Canadian provinces and municipalities floating bonds recently in the United States.

An announcement will be made when the convention arrangements are completed, Spear said.

Airman Dies In Airscoop Of Jet Plane

CHICAGO (INS)—A young airman was killed Thursday when he was sucked into the air intake of a jet plane. The plane was standing on the ground with the engine running at O'Hare Field in Chicago.

The victim was identified as Airman 3rd Class Earl N. Cunningham of Indianapolis.

Capt. Werner F. Cryns, a medical officer, risked his life by crawling into the intake after the engine was cut off. He said Cunningham was drawn about 12 feet into the craft and died instantly.

The engine of the plane, an F-86, was in operation for maintenance at the time.

Witnesses said Cunningham walked within six feet of the plane when the suction literally scooped him off his feet and drew him into the death trap.

Air Force personnel said the entire rear of the plane was disassembled within 15 minutes to recover the body.

Red Leaders Claim Polish Workers 'Demand' Rebels Be Punished

By SEYMOUR TOPPING

BERLIN (AP) — Polish newspapers and broadcasts stepped up Thursday their demands for "severe punishment" of leaders of the Poznan worker rebellion.

They ignored American and other Western appeals for "humane" treatment of workers jailed after the bloody three-day uprising last week.

The Polish United Workers—Communist—party announced it has received a flood of letters and telegrams from all over the country "expressing confidence in party and government."

ADN, the East German news agency, quoted the messages from workers, farmers and youths as "demanding severe punishment of the ringleaders of the Poznan provocation."

Warsaw radio made no mention of the findings of a special government commission — which has life and death powers—now in the city of Poznan investigating the revolt. Evidence collected by the commission apparently will be used to stage treason trials of those blamed for the uprising that left hundreds dead and wounded.

The radio was silent also on secret police trials now going on of "secondary" violators among the rebel workers.

The daily life of most people in Poznan, a city of 365,000, apparrgrne tsu ytleiin ently is returning to normal.

Lech Jestka, editor of the Communist newspaper in Poznan, Gazeta Poznanska, said the special commission is still in the city and soon will make proposals to Warsaw to improve the situation.

In the meantime, Jestka said, more than one million zlotys—$250,000 at the official rate—has been paid back in "tax rebates to the workers of the Stalin (Zispo) railway car works."

It was the Zispo workers who touched off the revolt June 28 with a general strike after hearing that some of their delegates had been arrested by secret police.

In West Berlin, deputies in the City Assembly rose in tribute to the worker victims of the Poznan revolt. They heard Speaker Willy Brandt call upon the Warsaw government "to abandon the abominable system of retaliation.

"We ask humaneness and demand the release of political prisoners. The people of Berlin know from their own experience what it means if a population is offered tanks instead of bread, and drumhead courts instead of freedom."

A Western traveler who returned to Berlin last night from an automobile trip through Poland said the Red Army apparently has relaxed its tight security precautions along the East German frontier.

TWO MORE COUNTIES REQUEST 'DISASTER AREA' DESIGNATION

Gov. Victor Anderson Thursday notified Agriculture Secretary Ezra Benson that two more Nebraska counties have asked to be declared drought disaster areas.

Designation as a major disaster area is necessary before a county can get permission for grazing on soil bank reserve acreage.

Anderson, in a telegram, told Benson that Douglas and Polk Counties are requesting the disaster designation.

He also reminded Benson of previous requests from Colfax, Stanton, Platte, Boyd, Knox and Butler Counties for permission for soil bank grazing.

Anderson asked that the U.S. Department of Agriculture inspect the counties "at the earliest possible date."

State Department 'Regrets' Poles Turn Down Free Grain

. . . Reds Call Offer 'Propaganda'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department said Thursday the United States "regrets sincerely" that Poland's Communist leaders apparently have turned down an American offer of free grain.

The offer was made following last week's Poznan riots. Demonstrating workers at Poznan had called for bread.

Warsaw radio said last night the United States offer was "propaganda." It declared Poland would not accept charity from the United States but was prepared to buy grain through commercial transactions.

State Department press officer Lincoln White said Thursday that Poland had made a "phony" offer to buy food last February when it inquired about grain purchases on credit. He said commercial channels were open to Polish purchasers and that the February inquiry to the United States government was not considered to be sincere and therefore was never answered.

White reported that the United States has had no word from the International Red Cross of the Polish rejection as reported by the Warsaw radio. He made clear by his comment that the American offer made through the Red Cross late last week still stands.

The Communist radio declared in the rejection broadcast that "as is well known, there is no hunger in Poland."

State Department officials said that a worker making the equivalent of around $200 a month, the average pay, has to spend about 87 cents for the Polish unit loaf of 2.2 pounds—1 kilo—of bread.

The State Department and White House, White said, had received a flood of telegrams and messages urging them to send help to Poland.

Seward School Budget Hiked To $193,171

SEWARD, Neb. — Members of the Seward city schools board of education have adopted a budget of $193,171 for the 1956-57 school year.

This is an increase of $11,314 over last year's budget. Largest increase is in the teachers' salaries.
